National Feed Company Sued For $300,000

A Randall County firm and its corporate parent filed a $334,000 damage suit against the Ralston-Purina Company alleging the company supplied contaminated feed which resulted in sterilization of sows owned by the county firm.

Suit was filed in 181st District Court by Environmental Applications, Inc., of Delaware and its wholly owned subsidiary, Texas Agri-Science, Inc., south of Canyon.

Texas Agri-Science, Inc., runs a controlled environment facility about 4 miles south of Canyon for the raising of hogs. It began business in the summer of 1971.

The suit filed Wednesday alleges that the local company contracted during the summer of 1971 with Ralston-Purina Company for the nationally-known feed company to supply feed for all hogs in the Randall County facility.

Shortly after the facility began operations and the defendant began furnishing feed, the manager at the hog farm "began to experience difficulty in their breeding program in that many sows demonstrated symptoms of sterility or low production," the suit says.

The suit states that the hogs in the Randall County farm were of the same genetic background as were hogs raised in other parts of the country by the plaintiff, and that because of this the management suspected outside causes were at fault.

The manager of the plant began to check the feed brought to the farm by the Ralston-Purina Company in October or November of 1971, the suit says, and discovered pellets of a hormone diethylstilbestrol.

Samples of the feed were sent to laboratories in December 1971 and "the results confirmed suspicions that it did contain a high level" of the hormone, the suit alleges.

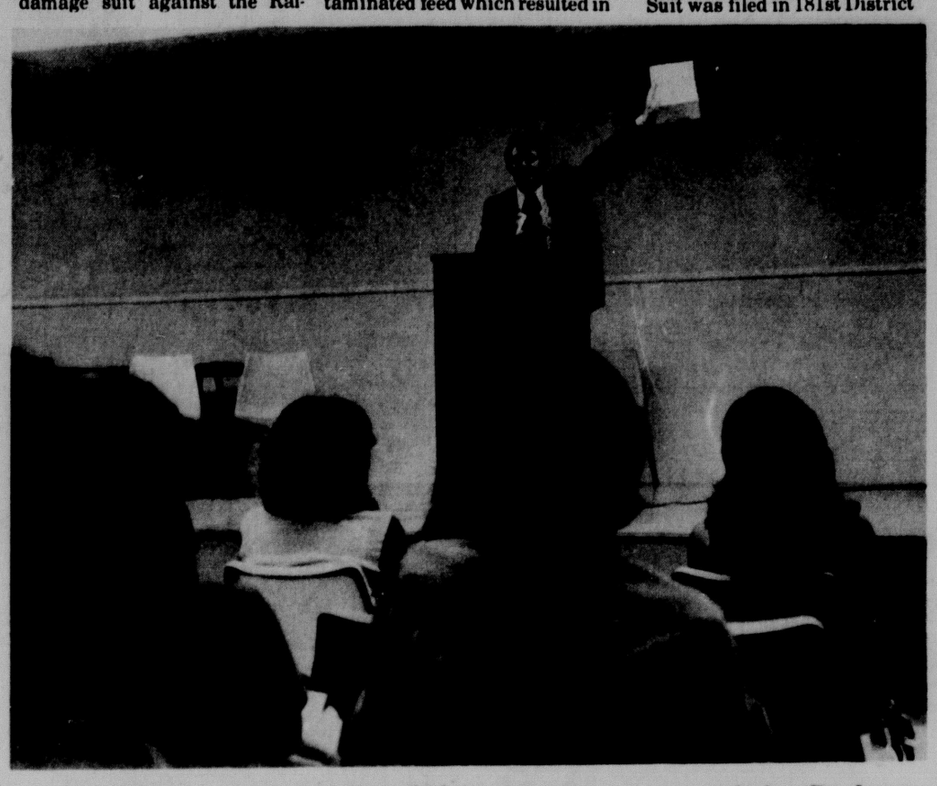

The suit says the farm management informed the Ralston-Purina Company about the appearance in their feed of the hormone and was told to continue using the feed.

"On one occasion the plant manager of the defendant's Amarillo facility told the employees of the plaintiff's that they could do nothing to prevent the contamination and thereafter the plaintiff discontinued purchasing the ration from the defendant's Lubbock facility," the suit alleges.

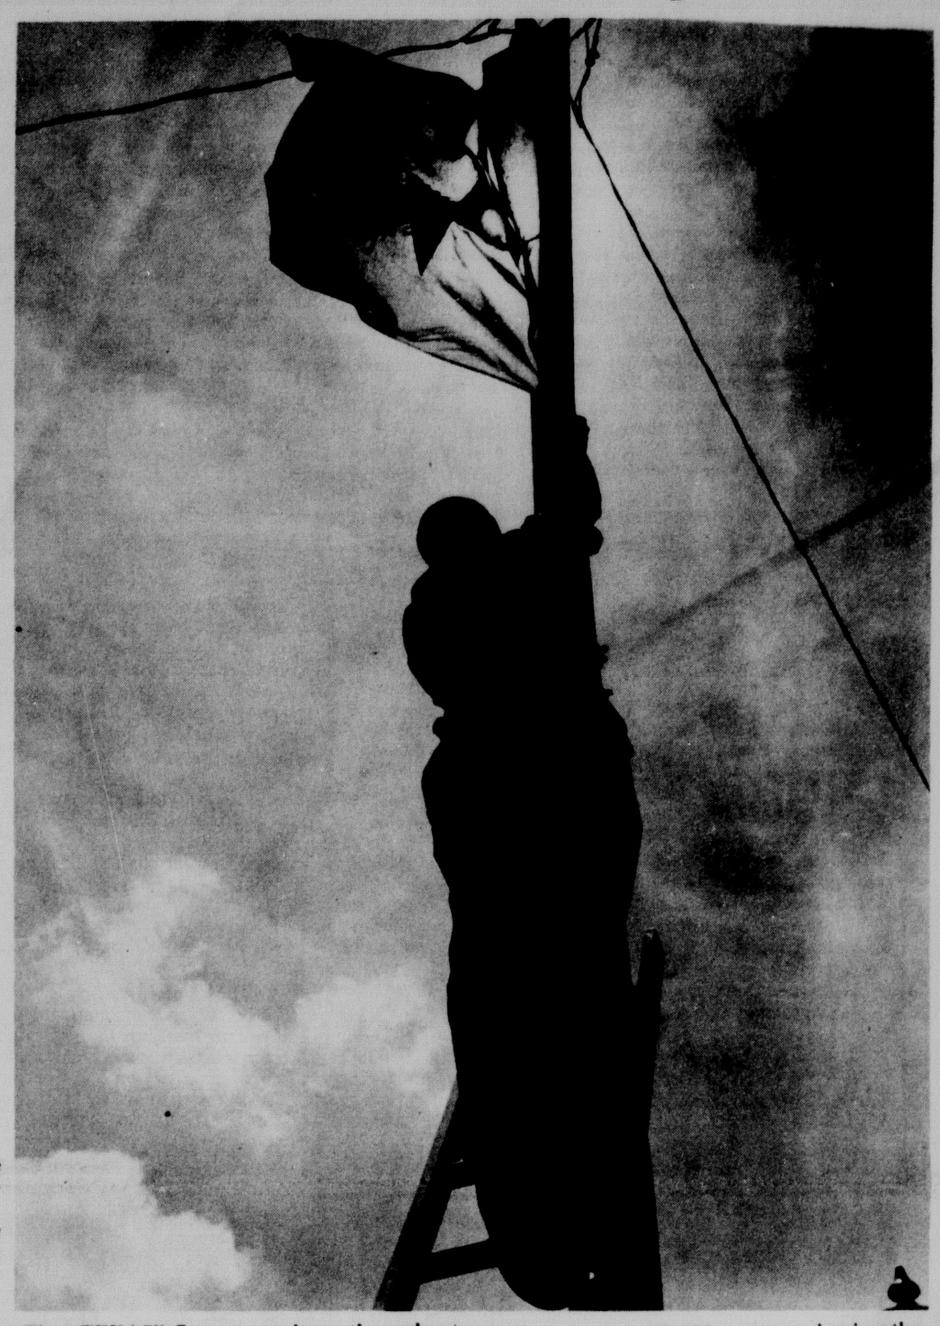

In addition, the farm management slaughtered 23 sows and autopsies revealed that although the sows were being bred, none showed signes of pregnancy and many showed a cystic ovarian condition, the suit says.

"Pathological and physiological tests at Oklahoma State University have established conclusively that the hormone diethylstilbestrol resulted in the sterile condition of the sows," the suit alleges.

The Randall County hog farm and its parent corporation are represented by Ochsner & Baughman, Amarillo attorneys.

Dr. Donald Cates, registrar and dean of admissions at West Texas State University, shows beginning freshmen the proper forms for registration during freshman orientation Tuesday on campus. The ballroom of the activities center was packed as Dr. James Cornette, university president, and other administrators filled the freshmen in. Registration begins today and ends Saturday.

School Board Raises Taxes By 5¢

A five-cent tax rate increase was voted Tuesday night by the board of the Canyon Independent School District.

The five-cent hike, which is expected to bring an extra $31,000 into school coffers annually, raises the tax rate to $1.70 per $100 on 51 per cent valuation.

Tuesday night's action to raise taxes involved little discussion. The board members had discussed the rate increase in their Aug. 15 meeting.

School Supt. Jerry Jacobs reiterated that the extra nickle can be used for special projects the board may want to pursue this year.

The rate hike vote followed closely a review by the board of another draft of the 1972-73 fiscal year budget of almost $2.6 million.

"As I see it, a tax rate to cover what we've allowed for in our 72-73 budget would take $1.65," Jacobs said. "Now, to include any special projects of any nature would take some additional rate money."

School district residents have been taxed at the $1.65 rate for four years.

"I personally believe it's just good business to do some of these things along rather than wait and include them in a bond issue," the superintendent said.

"I personally feel we'd be better off to maybe get some of the small projects finished every year rather than wait and issue bonds later," said board member Ed Wieck.

The board members indicated that an increase in the tax rate now might forestall an issuance of bonds in the near future.

The board did not decide on any special projects Tuesday night on which the money would be spent.

The proposed 72-73 budget reflects total expenditures of $2,567,500 and total revenue of $2,570,700.

The new budget is about $50,000 higher than last year's amended budget of $2,516,000.

State sources provide the greatest revenue—$1.5 million— in the proposed budget.

The largest expenditure in the budget is for instructional salaries. A total of almost $1.4 million is budgeted for these.

A total of $1.5 million is budgeted for instructional purposes, making this the most expensive category in the budget.

School administration is budgeted $123,000, pupil transportation is budgeted $109,700, a general administration fund is budgeted $124,000 and $198,000 is budgeted for maintenance and operation.

A total of $297,000 is budgeted for debt service.

The board members must meet again and set a public hearing date for the proposed budget.

The board approved Tuesday night an amended budget of $2.5 million for the last fiscal year.

Originally, the budget had been $2.4 million.

Jacobs said the adjustment up was necessary for several reasons, primarily a $29,000 increase in instructional costs, and a $15,000 increase in capital outlay.

He noted that about $80,000 more has been included in the

Wants Another Deputy

Sheriff Seeks Office Improvements

Randall County Sheriff Cliff Longest appeared before county commissioners for the first time Monday seeking various improvements in the sheriff's office.

Longest, who was named interim sheriff two weeks ago after the death of L.S. "Slim" Johnston, said he is moving one deputy from an administrative position to the night shift patrol and requested he be allowed to hire another deputy as an administrative aid.

County Judge Woody Pond, who told commissioners he had discussed the personnel changes with Longest, said the county receives a federal grant for employment of an administrative assistant.

The assistant would be placed in the South Amarillo office.

Longest said he has made no decision yet on naming a chief deputy but he believes the chief deputy should receive a higher salary than do other deputies.

"The judge and I have discussed this and we think $50 a month difference between the chief deputy and other deputies would be sufficient," he said.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher questioned whether $50 a month would be enough.

Longest also asked the commissioners to advertise for bids for photographic supplies—paper, film and chemicals—for the coming year.

The request was approved, but commissioners took under advisement Longest's salary increase request for a chief deputy.

Commissioners replayed a scene from last week's court meeting when they once again tabled action on a resolution from the Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association seeking Federal Power Commission control over Pioneer Natural Gas Co. rates.

Commissioner Bill Butler reiterated that not enough information has been presented the

Draft End, Volunteer Army Criticized Here

President Nixon's early week reaffirmation that the military draft will be ended by next summer may have boosted the spirits of local draft-age youth, but it drew a measure of criticism from two other sectors here.

Lt. Col. John Childs, professor of military science at West Texas State University, said the end of the draft could well spell the end of Reserve Officer Training Corps on college campuses throughout the country.

An active Army reserve officer in Canyon questioned whether the Army could function effectively without a draft.

And, a member of the area Democrats for McGovern voiced concern about the effectiveness of an all-volunteer Army.

Childs said the President's announced policies concerning the draft has already taken a wide toll in college applicants in ROTC.

"Let's just look at enrollment figures," he said. "At the beginning of the school year 1968-69, we had 416 in ROTC. In 69-70, we had 402. In 70-71, we had 243 and in 71-72, we had 125."

For this fall, Childs anticipates about 100 will enroll in the ROTC program, which trains college students to become Army officers.

"I think the termination of the draft will result in a decline in ROTC," he said.

Childs, a 19-year Army veteran who won the Silver Star for action in Vietnam, said he personally feels the Army does not desire elimination of the draft and an all-volunteer force.

"I think the Army would desire to continue the draft if it had the choice for several reasons," he said. "One, it provides the mechanism to expand rapidly in the event of war. An all-volunteer force will be much more expensive because to keep men you're going to have to pay them the equivalent salary to his counterparts outside the Army or maybe higher."

Childs questioned the quality of a soldier which will be a member of the volunteer Army.

"I don't know if the quality will be as high as the American people deserve," he said. "A main advantage of the draft has been that the Army has had a cross-section of the nation in young men who bring in new blood and fresh ideas which have kept us a democratic Army."

Childs minimized the danger of an elite Army which might some day move to control the country.

"I don't think that'll happen because there's so much civilian control over the Army," he said.

A ranking Reserve Army officer in Canyon, who wished to re-

DA Discusses Proposed Bills

A legislative package will be presented the next state legislature to amend several statutes including those involving oral confessions and receiving and concealing stolen property.

The Texas County and District Attornies Association will present the package. Randall County Dist. Atty. George Dowlen has served as a member of the association committee to draft the proposed amendments.

"Texas is the only state in the union that doesn't accept oral confessions by the defendant even after he's been fully informed of his rights unless the confession is reduced to writing, signed and seen by two witnesses," Dowlen told The News in outlining the various proposals. "This amendment puts Texas in accord with federal law and the other 49 states."

Dowlen said the amendment provides that if it can be shown in court that the defendant was made fully aware of his rights, waived those rights and made an oral confession then the confession would be admissable as evidence.

Another amendment to be presented the legislature involves

Kids, Inc., Needs Money To Purchase Uniforms

Canyon's Kids, Inc., program needs money.

Director Charles Gerald said early this week the program needs about $600 to purchase uniforms and equipment for the more than 100 boys who have registered to participate in this fall's football.

Local residents who wish to contribute to the program should contact Gerald or J.D. Byrd at Byrd Pharmacy.

"Canyon Kids, Inc., now has 50 football uniforms and has to buy 60 more within the next week," Gerald said. "One complete uniform costs $29."

Boys in this year's program must furnish their own shoes and socks. Each one pays a $5 registration fee, but Gerald said $4 of that goes to the Amarillo Kids, Inc., program to provide for the scheduling of Canyon teams against Amarillo teams.

The Canyon Kids, Inc., plans to field five teams this fall.

Gerald said initial plans for a flag football league may be scrapped.

"It appears there's just not enough interest," he said. "About 20 boys signed up and this isn't enough to have the teams."

Practice for the contact season began Monday here. Equipment is to be issued Friday.

Gerald said the boys will practice on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights from 4-6 p.m. Games will be played on Sunday afternoons.

Each team will probably play an 8-game schedule.

Coaches for this year's program are Max Brummett, Herb Hall, Wayne Williams, Don Rosselle and Van James.

Assistant director is Gary Fletcher and treasurer is Mrs. J.W. Palmer.

A coach talks with his team Monday afternoon as the Kids, Inc. football season begins here. The Kids, Inc., program needs about $600 to buy uniforms for the boys. Five teams will be fielded to compete with Amarillo teams.

Coach Mayfield Praises WT Pass Receivers

West Texas State University football coach Gene Mayfield praised the work of pass receivers during early drills this week and was pleased with the overall progress of his Buffalo squad.

"We appear to have some receivers with good speed and catching ability," said Mayfield after Tuesday's workouts.

Mayfield was talking of speedy split ends Carl Brown, Kenneth Sellers, Tracy Dickson and David Cleveland, in addition to tight end Merced Solis and backs Billy Pritchett, Rusty Tucker, Jimmy Lisle and Cole Fraley.

Brown, Sellers and Dickson formed three-fourths of West Texas State University's 440-yard relay team in the Missouri Valley Conference spring meet in May at Memphis, Tenn. Those three, with Lee Lewis, ran a school record-breaking 40.6.

"We aren't certain yet how good we will be at throwing to those receivers, but it is nice to know we have enough speed and ability at those receiving posit-

Political Activities Stir On WT Campus

Political activity on the West Texas State University campus this fall may be slow in coming, but organizers promise that the Republicans and Democrats will be well represented long before election day.

Joe Jaquess, Area I chairman of the Texas Young Republican Federation, said the campus Young Republicans will not politic today and Friday during registration in an effort to register students to vote.

Benny Turner, last year's Young Democrat president, said he is uncertain whether his club will have members at registration today.

"We found through experience that you can't do much during registration," Jaquess said. "It takes more time than the students have."

Jaquess said the campus Young Republicans will probably campaign before election time to register students to vote.

He said, too, that if interest is sufficient, a Students For Tower

FROM THE CANYON RIM

by Troy Martin

I think one of the great dangers of this era is the possibility of complete loss of touch with reality. I see a growing tendency of adult people to accept a lie as the truth and to damn the truth as a lie.

Let me give you a few examples.

Rhodesia was drummed out of the Olympics because it has not turned the country—the development of which has been accomplished almost entirely by Europeans—over to a black majority that as yet has shown no ability to rule.

On the other hand, Kenya is being allowed to compete and Kenya has suppressed its Asiatic minority with ruthlessness since the day it was granted independence

Almost a score of Communist countries are not only being allowed to compete but are also being given an unfair edge in that competition.

It was Howard Cozzell who cried foul Monday night on ABC television. "We have to be a lot better than these people to score as well as they do," Cozzell declared from Munich on live TV and I was proud of him for pointing this out.

I saw three Negro college students on a television talk show Tuesday extolling the advantages of life in the Soviet Union which they had just visited.

They said there is no class distinction in the USSR and that people work together instead of trying to best each other. They seemed to think there is something virtuous in the lack of competition.

But under close questioning they admitted that there is a national apprehension in the Soviet Union. All three of them told of being followed as they "went where they wanted to go." They noted that even the people who talked rather freely to them on the streets feared to accompany them to their hotel saying the rooms were probably bugged.

Another profile in hypocrisy is projected by Senator George McGovern, Democratic candidate for President.

Tuesday McGovern blasted the administration for not taking sterner measures to counter oppression of the Jews in the Soviet Union.

Can this possibly be the same George McGovern who wants to throw the South Vietnamese to the Communist wolves in Asia?

McGovern told a group of rabbis he would strengthen Israel and guarantee its status quo.

With what? He has already said he would decimate the armed forces and go begging to Hanoi.

Is it possible that two George McGoverns are running for President?

Graham Purcell people think the congressman will carry the Wichita Falls area with 60 percent of the vote.

"If we can break even in Amarillo we will win," a member of the Purcell staff declared.

Purcell may have a hard time breaking even in Amarillo because Randall County undoubtedly will go solid Republican if something drastic doesn't happen before the election. The county went overwhelmingly for Nixon in 1968 and a stronger vote for him is indicated this year. Pretty good coat tails for a Republican incumbent to ride I'd say.

We had a pretty good example last week of what happens when the death penalty is struck down.

Bank robbers took advantage of the fact that the death penalty has been abolished in New York. In the course of a robbery the thugs took hostages.

One of the heist men pointed out to police that he would not hesitate to kill a hostage if his terms were not met because he could not be executed for doing it.

I heard a "reformed" robber discuss the death penalty this week.

He was paroled after serving 23 years of a life sentence for murder in the course of a robbery.

"I wouldn't be here today if they had imposed the death penalty," he argued.

So what?

The man he killed isn't here and his family is still suffering.

In Britain where the death penalty has been abolished the incidence of murder has risen at an alarming rate. There is a move afoot there for the return of the gallows to protect society.

With excellent photography, The Houston Chronicle recently painted a Texas Panhandle of gnarled mesquite trees, bone dry summers, searing dust storms and arctic winters.

Pictured are forlorn shacks, defeated old folks and even a boothill cemetery.

The writer should have known better. He is a graduate of West Texas State University. I can't help wondering why he didn't include some shots of his alma mater, verdant Palo Duro Canyon, Panhandle feedlots dominating the Texas cattle industry, oil wells and lush irrigated farmland.

Planning Commission Forms Into Three Committees

The city planning and zoning commission chairman formed three standing committees within that body Monday night to focus intensified attention on special areas in the city.

Clarence Thompson formed one committee to focus primarily on zoning in the city, one to focus on planning and another to work with a code enforcement office to be established soon in the city.

The committees are to study items referred to them by the planning and zoning commission as a whole and make recommendations.

In other action, the commission voted to recommend to city commission that the parking requirement for churches in the retail and central business district be changed.

Currently, churches in this area are required to provide one off-street parking space for each three seats in the main sanctuary.

The change recommended Monday night would require the churches to provide one off-street parking space for each four seats in the main sanctuary.

The proposal to change the parking requirement for these churches was referred to the planning and zoning body several months ago by the city commission.

City Manager George Loudder said the city commision felt that due to availability of property and high land prices in the central city area, churches might have a difficult time complying with the former requirement.

"The city commission was concerned that churches might be required to build outside the downtown area because of the price and availability of land," Loudder said. "In my opinion, this would be detrimental to the downtown area."

In other business, the commission recommended the city commission approve the closing of West 8th Street from the North side of West 7th Avenue to the South line of West 5th Avenue.

Currently, although there is an easement for a street in this area, no street exists and the easement has never been used as a street, Loudder said.

Canyon Church Census To Be Taken In Oct.

Canyon ministers and about 250 volunteers from churches and church groups will conduct a community-wide census of church preference on Saturday morning, Oct. 7. The plans, drawn up at a ministerial association meeting a week ago, were announced by the Rev. Mel Hardin, director of the census.

Residents may prepare for the census by clipping a large, colorful census card from the Canyon News prior to October 7 and filling it out, to be hung on the doorknob for census takers to pick up on Saturday morning, Oct. 7, 10-12 a.m. The card will ask for names of family members, a statement of church membership and local church preference.

If census takers do not find the published form on the doorknob, they will knock at the door and leave a similar card to be collected ten minutes later.

Canyon Community Center will be rented and used as headquarters for the census activities for three consecutive Saturdays, beginning Sept. 30, Rev. Hardin stated. At the first session, a census training school will be conducted. On Oct. 7, the Center will be used to distribute materials and collect statistics brought in by the census takers.

"We feel we will get a 90-percent response from the census, said Hardin, adding that on October 14 the Community Center will be the focal point of "mopping-up" operations. Statistics will be compiled at that time, showing ministers where prospects are, and where they are not."

Plans call for the city and surroundings in an area of five to six miles to be divided into eight zones. Within the zones, each individual census taker will be responsible for 20 homes.

Zone captains for the four city zones are the Rev. H.J. Petit of the Assembly of God Church; the Rev. J. Frank Peery, of the First United Methodist Church; the Rev. Bill Foil of the First Baptist Church; and the Rev. Baldwin Stribling of the First Presbyterian Church.

So far, ten churches or student church groups have agreed to join the project, Hardin said.

WT Prof To Speak At Meeting

A West Texas State University business professor is one of two Texans invited recently to present papers at a joint national meeting of three organizations in November.

Dr. Frank Landram, who completed his doctorate last spring at Texas Tech, will speak in Atlantic City, N.J. to a joint meeting of the Operations Research Society of America, the Institute of Management Science and the American Institute of Industrial Engineers.

A professor in business at the University of Texas at Austin is the only other Texan invited to speak at the three-day convention.

Landram is to speak on "Partial Path Analysis for Personnel Evaluation, the title of a paper he submitted the convention committee several months ago.

He said his speech describes a method which can be used to validate scores on tests given job applicants to determine their potential for doing the job.

The method basically tests the tests given job applicants to determine whether they test what they're supposed to test.

"It's basically used to determine whether the tests discriminate against minority groups or ethnic groups," Landram said.

The WT professor said he has been using his method successfully for about three years in the local area to determine the validity of tests used by area firms in hiring.

Landram received his doctorate in business last spring from Texas Tech. He received his masters degree at Oklahoma University. He has been with WTSU seven years.

Dark Clouds Leave Little In County

Heavy, moisture-laden clouds hung over Randall County during the first part of this week and while they dumped deluges on other parts of the Panhandle, they dried up in this area.

Temperatures were unseasonably cool with highs ranging from the upper 60's to the upper 70's during the early part of the week.

Little moisture was recorded in the county since Sunday. Showers were only spotty around the county and while one resident reported a total of one inch of moisture, Canyon residents could boast of only a trace.

For local wheat farmers, the clouds did little more than tease.

"It was nothing to get real excited about," said County Agent John Brazzil. "We're just on the verge of having enough moisture to plant our wheat."

Brazzil said the moisture has been so erratic over the area that some farmers have already begun to plant wheat while others are still waiting for more rain.

For dryland grain sorghum farmers, the rain was too little too late.

"Our dryland sorghum is damaged too badly to recover much," Brazzil said. "But, some is hanging on pretty good. Some still could respond."

There is little to cheer about, too, in the National Weather Service forecast for the remainder of the week.

Scattered thundershowers are anticipated with temperatures in the low 80's during the day and near 60 for lows.

Probability of rain in the area through Saturday is 30-40 percent.

Record Year For "TEXAS"

It was a record year for the cast and producers of "TEXAS."

General Manager Raymond Raillard said Monday a total of 82,248 persons attended the show in Palo Duro Canyon this seventh season.

"We had an average nightly crowd of 91 per cent of our capacity," he said, "and that's good in anybody's book."

An average of 1,440 persons saw Paul Green's musical-drama each night during the season which ended Saturday.

"We had 20 sell-out nights out of 57 shows," he said. "And, we only had one rain-out."

Raillard is enthusiastic in his praise of this year's cast.

"It was the best show we ever had," he said. "Each year it gets better."

Spectators traveled many miles to come to see "TEXAS".

This season, 25 per cent of the audience came from out of the state and 64 per cent of the audience traveled more than 100 miles each way. Thirty-four per cent were returning to see the show for the second or more time.

"TEXAS" will run next year from June 21 through Aug. 25. A Sunday performance is scheduled on July 1.

Plans Solidified For Bike Week

Plans were solidified Monday night for Canyon's first annual bicycle safety week, which is scheduled Sept. 17-23.

Chamber of commerce board members firmed up plans for a week full of activities, including a safety poster contest, safety education programs, a safety rodeo and a relay race.

The board stressed that the safety week is aimed primarily at local youngsters, but that an effort will be made to schedule activities to attract college students and adult bike riders.

Highlight of the week will be the safety rodeo and relay race on Sept. 23.

The women's division of the chamber will handle the safety poster contest, which will be held in the public schools. The poster contest will be just one of several programs to be conducted during the week to educate youngsters and oldsters about bike safety.

Larry Hooper was named to head the education programs.

Eddie Knowles will coordinate the safety rodeo, which will include a bike inspection, a registration of the bike for future identification in case it is stolen, and performance and skill competition.

The relay race will be held inside the square in downtown Canyon and directors Monday night discussed a possible 25-mile race.

Lt. Col. John Childs was named to head the committee to coordinate the relay race.

One of the prizes to be given away during the safety week will be a three-speed bicycle. Other prizes are still unnamed.

The Chamber directors will meet again in the near future to set specific times and dates for the various events.

DA's Office Gets $15,000 Through Suits

The Randall County district attorney's office has collected more than $15,000 since April in delinquent taxes, it was revealed Monday.

Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said his office has written delinquent taxpayers and has also filed civil suits to regain the tax monies.

He said most of the $15,000 has come from persons owing personal property taxes.

Next month, the district attorney's office will begin filing suit against taxpayers who owe delinquent real property taxes.

The taxpayers will be written a letter warning them of legal action and if they have not paid after 30 days, the office will field civil suits.

THE BANKER

HE'S WHAT MAKES ONE BANK DIFFERENT FROM ANOTHER.

Most people think that banks are banks. After all, they'd argue, we look a lot alike. Our services are largely the same. We all conform. (We have to, we're regulated.)

But they're forgetting the banker. He's what makes one bank different from another.

He's something else. He gets where he is because he is who he is, a man with an innate sensitivity to what's going on. Rumors, tips, wild speculation — he leaves these to amateurs. And what he reads in the financial pages is just for starters.

Almost every area of experience comes into play in forming his decisions: world trends, political trends, scientific trends, industrial trends, social trends.

Where else can a man put together all these complex awarenesses and make them make sense? Some people might scoff at all this because they know it's not the banker's own money he's investing. Well, they ought to remember a banker has invested his life.

You'll find officers with an incredibly high degree of individual responsibility. We have so much respect for our people that we just don't saddle them with committee rules. This way, answers to your questions and decisions on loans come through faster.

When you stop in at West Texas State Bank, you'll find it's the banker who makes a bank different. We want you to know that you'll always find a welcome at West Texas State Bank. But to say you'll just find a welcome hardly says enough.

CARD OF THANKS

When this terrible thing happened to Slim, you begin to question whether there is any more good in the world.

But as we began to remember the events of the past six months of ways our dear friends searched for ways to be helpful, finally, we knew in spite of this tragic thing people still loved us, and could see so much good yet in this world because there hasn't been anything that friends haven't offered to do, and we are so grateful to you all.

A special thanks and gratitude to all the hospital staff that showed so much love and concern.

Also a special thanks to the Sheriff's Posse for all their hard work they gave us. And we will never forget the loyalty and love the men at the Sheriff's Office showed to Slim and to all of us.

The many, many sympathy cards while Slim was sick, the beautiful flowers, foods, and all the cards since the passing of our love one.

But in these darkest moments of our lives, we felt God's love is in evidence.

Sections 34, 46, 47, 48, Block T, H&W Survey; Section 54, BS&F Survey, all in Carson County, Texas, totaling approximately 3196.5 acres. (The City owns an additional undivided one-fourth mineral interest under 40 acres in Section 48, Block T, H&W Survey, Carson County, Texas, as more fully described in Warranty Deed from the City of Amarillo to Milton Ford Lain, of record in Carson County, Texas).

The City Commission intends to lease such mineral interests for oil and gas purposes, and has designated 1:30 o'clock P.M. on the 19th day of September, 1972, in the Commission Chambers, Municipal Building, Amarillo, Texas, as the place and time at which the City Commission will receive and consider bids for such mineral leases as it may determine to make. The surface rights to any of the above property will not be included except for the 40 acres in Section 48, Block T, H&W Survey, Carson County, Texas. Use of water will be limited to drilling and reworking and will not be allowed for water flooding, repressuring or any other purpose. The Lessee will be required to the satisfaction of the City's Director of Utilities to take adequate precautions to prevent contamination of the underground water supply. All costs of publication of this Notice will be paid by Lessee.

The City Commission in its discretion will award the Lease to the highest and best bidder, provided that if in the judgment of the City Commission the bids submitted do not represent the fair value of such leases, the Commission may reject same and again give notice and call for additional bids.

Subject to the limitations set out herein, a standard Texas Oil, gas and Mineral Lease, Form 8466, will be used.

Catastrophe Strikes Twice

By VICKIE HOOKER

"BEWARE OF THE Little Dipper!" That's the warning Valerie McClendon and her children Sherry, Danny, and John Clark would probably give to those in the Little Dipper line at Wonderland Park. No one warned them Wednesday night before last when they rode it, and they met with very unfortunate circumstances.

On the last turn of the last lap around the track, the car Valerie, Sherry, and John Clark were in jumped the track! As they headed for the ground Sherry reached out with her right arm, possibly hoping to break the fall. Not only did she break the fall, protecting her mother and two-year-old brother from serious injuries, but she also broke her forearm right into!

SHERRY GOT TO come home last Sunday from the hospital and she is doing rather well, except that she has to sleep sitting up. Valerie is undergoing therapy everyday for at least two weeks for her neck and back, and John Clark received only bruises. So all in all, they were pretty lucky, and we're certainly glad that no one was hurt seriously.

ANOTHER CATASTROPHE THAT same day occurred at the mailboxes! Our poor mailman tried to catch his mail truck which was making its way toward the barbed wire fence on the west side of the road. From all indications, the truck hit the fence before he could get in and stop it. The top strand of the wire snapped loose from the posts, wrapping itself around our mailman. He carefully removed the wire and completed his route, his clothes in shambles, not to mention the cuts and scratches on his body! He was treated and released from the hospital and is apparently all right now. (The only reason we found out about this is that he was in the emergency room when Sherry was brought in with her broken arm.)

EVEN THOUGH YOU probably won't be seeing him out riding cycles for some time, just thought we'd let you know that Tim Dustman is home from the hospital and is doing well. Glad to have you back in this part of the world, Tim!

BUSTER AND REBA Guess have had a busy summer entertaining relatives. The last ones were Buster's step-brother and his wife, Carol and Edna McBride, who were here last Sunday from Odessa. Actually, the main purpose of the McBride's visit was to see her nephew, who is still in serious condition after an accident he had on a trampoline a few weeks ago.

REBA SAID THEY haven't had much chance to work on their house, but they hope to get back to it and finish their bedroom soon. (If I had been Reba, I think I would have taken advantage of the situation and put some of those relatives to work!)

DO YOU KNOW what next Thursday is? Of course! It's the first Home Demonstration Club Meeting for the year! We'll meet at 12:00 noon at Valerie McClendon's for crafts. Beverly Norman will be demonstrating how to make miniature burlap flower arrangements. You will need to bring a four-inch square of burlap for each flower you make, balled fringe for the centers, wrapped wire or green tape for the stem, and Elmer's glue. Don't forget to mark September 7 on your calendar. Let's get the year started off right with every member present!

IT SEEMS LIKE it was an awfully short summer, but the men in our community, along with the men on the board, have done an excellent job making improvements in the Palisades. Our roads (thanks to the rain) are in fine shape, not to mention the bridge. And thanks to a lot of hard work on the part of our board members and Walter Adams, our gate remained in operation all summer, helping to protect our property. Everyone is extremely grateful for all your work, men. You've done a wonderful job!

BUT EVEN THOUGH the summer's over, our men have not stopped working and improving our community. The board is in the process of buying ten semi-truck loads of asphalt which was removed from a Furr Food store parking lot. The cost of the asphalt is $1.00 per yard, and will be used for filler in places that wash badly.

NEXT WEEK THERE'LL be some interviews with our new families in "Palisades Palaver".

THAT'S ALL THE news for now. Thank you.

Moore Infant's Rites Held

Graveside services for Brian Christopher Moore were conducted by LaGrone Funeral Chapel at Dreamland Cemetery on Saturday, Aug. 26, at 2 p.m. The Rev. Mel Hardin, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, officiated.

The baby was born at Neblett Memorial Hospital at 3:55 a.m. of the same day. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Moore of Dumas. Grandparents were Mr. and Mrs. James DeArman of Breckenridge, Tex., and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Moore of Comanche.

Conner To Speak At Final Services

"The biggest church in the world" will hold its last worship services of the summer season in Palo Duro Canyon Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, with Lon Conner as speaker.

Directed by J.C. Newton, lay "cowboy preacher," the non-denominational services have been held each Sunday this summer in the Sunflower picnic area for the benefit of campers in the canyon.

Sunday's speaker, a Canyon High School 1970 graduate and Eagle quarterback, is now a ministerial student. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Conner of Amarillo, and the grandson of Lonnie Byars of Canyon. Mr. and Mrs. Ken Baker and Mrs. Troy Martin will furnish the music for Sunday's worship.

With an average attendance of about 55, the services have ministered to campers from the states of New Mexico, Oklahoma, Georgia, Illinois, Louisiana, Tennessee, Michigan, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, and from many towns in Texas.

Special groups which have participated have been members of the National Campers and Hikers Association, a youth choir from Houston, and a youth group from Plainview. Robert Ray Henry, chaplain at the Huntsville state prison, directed the music for one service, accompanied by his wife. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Crews Henry, Canyon.

Numerous Canyon church members have assisted with the services as speakers, music directors, and instrumentalists on a pump organ and an accordion. They have also contributed their time in distributing circulars, posters, and other forms of publicity, and in reserving space and setting up chairs and other facilities.

"We'd like to extend a general invitation to folks in this area for these last services Sunday," Newton declared. He captioned the services, "the biggest church in the world" because they are held in the open with no man-made walls or limitations.

trial procedure in cases concerning the receipt and posession of stolen property.

"Under the present law, a fence cannot be convicted unless we can prove he knew the property was stolen and you have to have more than the testimony of an accomplice," Dowlen said." "As a practical matter, in 99 per cent of the cases, the thief and the fence are the only two who know what they said to each other."

The amendment says the state can prove guilt by presenting the uncollaborated testimony of an accomplice. It also provides that the fence would be presumed to know the property was stolen if it can be shown that twice before in a 12-month period, he had been in possession of stolen property.

Another amendment would change the legal relationship of a man and wife testifying in court.

"Now, the wife cannot be forced to testify against her husband unless the case involves violence done the wife or their children, period," Dowlen said. "This amendment restricts the law to prohibit testimony only about confidential communications between the husband and wife during the marriage."

It would, in essence, allow the wife to testify against her husband in cases such as bigamy.

Other items in the legislative package include amendments concerning driving while intoxicated, parole and appeals.

Also included is a bill calling for a pay raise for district attornies.

budget as revenue.

In other business, Jacobs told board members that almost 100 more children are enrolled in the schools here than had been anticipated.

He said, though, he would not assess the situation until following the Labor Day holiday when he feels all local children who are going to enroll will have begun classes.

Most of the increase in numbers of children occurred in the 5th grade through senior high school.

Rex Reeves Elementary School has an enrollment of 900, Gene Howe an enrollment of 453, the Junior High has 826 students and the high school 694 students.

Jacobs presented figures noting that first grade enrollment is decreasing annually since 1965, when 230 first graders began school here.

That number has dropped to its low—157 this year.

Draft. . .

main anonymous, was sharply critical of the termination of the draft and the move to a volunteer force.

He pointed out that today's Army reserve and national guard ranks are filled by and large with draft-motivated soldiers, and that without a draft there would be little motivation for today's young people to join either outfit.

He blamed many of the Army's problems on its image.

"People need to look at the Army as a kind of insurance policy," he said. "Right now, every mother in the U.S. is fighting the Army."

Dr. Darrell Munsell, publicity chairman for the Panhandle area McGovern for President committee, said the president's reaffirmation of the draft elimination was politically timed.

"I don't fault him on his timing," Munsell said. "Everything now is time for the election."

Munsell views the elimination of the draft with mixed emotions.

"In concept, I can agree with the voluntary basis," he said. "But, I can't agree in some areas, one of which is I'm not sure it's going to work."

Munsell said the draft has been an unfair system, but he said the British Army has experienced many problems in its all-volunteer force.

"Their Army is too small even for Great Britain," he said, "and they've had difficulty filling some of the specialty areas. Their big problem is filling the ranks.

"I'm not so sure our's would be any better."

court concerning the resolution.

Judge Pond said he will ask a representative of the users association and the gas company to attend the next commission meeting.

The resolution, which was presented the court in a letter, petitions the federal commission to control gas rate increases sought by Pioneer.

It states that the gas company is currently unregulated in the irrigation gas business and due to this "the company is free to raise the price of gas at any time and the farmers have no recourse and simply must pay the increased price or be cut off from natural gas."

The commissioners approved the computerization of the paper work involved in absentee balloting, but only after a warning from John Fulgenzi that computerization can sometimes bring increased cost.

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton had asked that the information received when a person votes absentee be stored on computer and used to compile three lists he is required by law to produce.

Hutton said the lists are needed to post daily names of voters who have voted absentee, to give to precinct judges and to give to canvassing officials on election day.

Hutton expects 3,000 persons to vote absentee in the coming November general election.

He said the paper work involved in producing the three lists requires that he hire several additional clerks at considerable expense to the county.

Upon questioning, Hutton said the computerization of the paper work would cost less than $100.

"There's a point you can reach where computers cost more than they're worth," Fulgenzi warned.

Fulgenzi also questioned the security of a computerized system, and was assured by Hutton that the system would be more secure than a system requiring additional clerks.

Commissioners also okayed a trip to San Antonio on Sept. 6 for Hutton to attend an elections seminar.

Commissioners will not meet again until 1 p.m. Sept. 11 due to the Labor Day holiday next Monday.

ions to worry people," said Mayfield.

Three athletes are working at the quarterback berth and at least two of them have had success in the past as throwers. Ron Leach, a junior who started seven games last year during a 2-9 campaign, was the team's third leading rusher last fall, but completed only eight of 44 pass attempts.

Mike Wartes, who quarterbacked the Buffalo freshmen to a 3-1 record last fall, completed 16 of 39 passes for 450 yards and only one interception during that campaign. The other quarterback is Bob Sweat, a strong-armed ex-Marine. Once in high school in Suffolk, Va., and once in a Marine Corps game Sweat completed six touchdown passes.

"Our rate of progress has been pretty good," said Mayfield after the first two days in full pads. "We need a great deal of work on offense with our assignments. I'm not dissatisfied with that phase of progress at this time, but it does need much more work."

The Buffaloes will climax their first week in full pads with a 2 p.m. scrimmage Saturday at the West Texas State practice field. The final two-a-day session is slated for today and one practice will be held Friday.

Mayfield said some of his players will miss parts of the two-a-days Thursday because of registration for classes, but that most of the players will be on hand for those practices.

organization and Young Voters for the President group will be formed.

These two organizations would be to gather non-partisan support for the two candidates in the November general election.

"I'm confident we can put these together," Jaquess said.

Jaquess said he feels good support for President Nixon is already building on campus.

"Our students are more moderate," he said, "and we have a lot of support here."

Turner said the Young Democrats are already going and that they will reapply for a new charter to operate on campus this fall.

He said the group may launch a door-to-door dormitory campaign later this fall to register students to vote.

Turner said the Young Democrats are chartered to back McGovern for President and will do so.

"Our charter calls for us to back all Democratic candidates," he said, "But, I won't get out and work for him(McGovern)."

"I think our manpower and time will be better spent trying to get our local people elected."

The organizational meeting for the Young Democrats will be Sept. 13.

Tulia newspaper publisher H.M. Baggarly will be the first speaker for the group during the first week in October.

Big Melons Grown Here

Everyone knows things are big in Texas, but a 19-pound cantaloupe?

The "monster" cantaloupe was one of seven large melons grown by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oglesby, who live about seven miles northeast of Canyon.

Oglesby said he got the cantaloupe seeds from a North Carolina company and used no fertilizer.

"We just planted our garden for the fun of it," said the man with the green thumb, who works for the American Smelting and Refining Company in Amarillo.

He said he was going to take one of the giant melons to show his fellow workers at the smelter.

"I hope they taste good—I haven't eaten any yet," Oglesby said.

One person, seeing the cantaloupe, said, "If it grew that big with the little rain that we've had this summer, think what it would look like with a lot of rain!"

News Brief

Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Wheelock have returned from attending their daughter's graduation at East Texas State University in Commerce. While there, they also visited with their son, John Robert Wheelcock and Brenda, his wife, and their two-year-old son, Eric. John works for United Technology Laboratories in Dallas, from which he recently had a six-month assignment in Hanau, Germany.

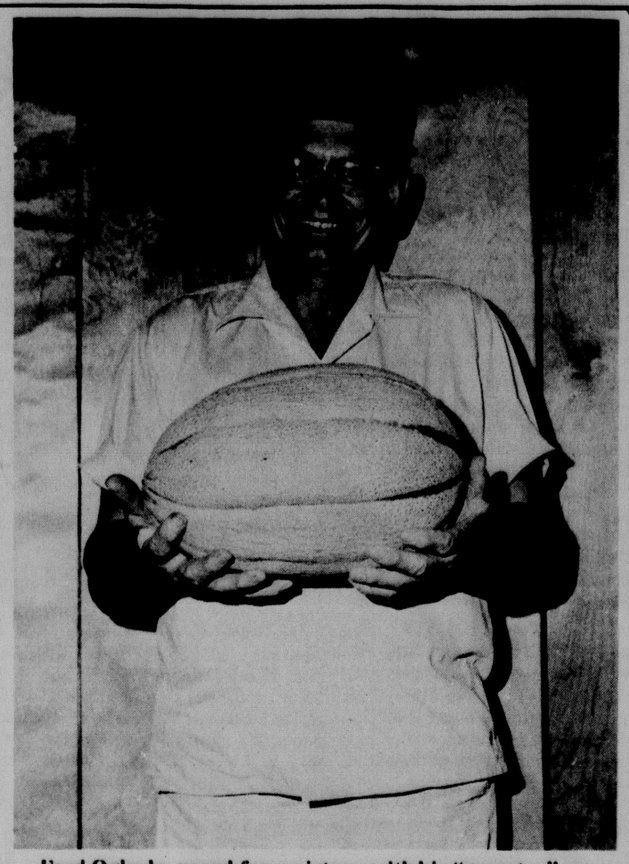

Funeral Services Held For Mother Of City Woman

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Dorothy Krutton, 47, of Midland, mother of Mrs. Cleo Brown of 1106 9th Ave., Canyon.

The Rev. Bill Foil, pastor of the Canyon First Baptist Church, officiated. Burial was in Wellington cemetery by Blackburn-Shaw Funeral Directors of Amarillo.

Mrs. Krutton was born in 1925 in Fort Worth. She had formerly lived in Wellington. Her husband, Michael, preceded her in death.

Other survivors include a brother, Burl Worley of Amarillo, a sister, Mrs. June Purcell of Denver, and one grandchild.

Fred Oglesby posed for a picture with his "monster" cantaloupe, a 19-pound one, before he sold it to Canyon News circulation manager, Louis Camp. Oglesby, who lives seven miles northeast of Canyon, said he got the cantaloupe seeds from a North Carolina company and used no fertilizer.

Football Is Under Way--Coaches Named

PACK 130, CUB Scouts, will holding a Cub Scout Rally on September 7th, in the cafetorium at Gene Howe School, at 7:30 P.M. Boys who are interested in becoming Cubs and who are either presently eight years old or are in the third grade are invited to attend this rally. Mr. Bill Edwards is the new cub master of this pack and will explain the in's and out's of cubbing to those in attendance. Parents of prospective cubs will need to accompany the boys to this meeting.

THE WEBELOS, WHO are Scouts ten years of age, are looking for a leader. This is a fine group of young men, so one of you daddies volunteer to help them along. O.K. Incidentally, any young man interested in cubbing or scouting should feel free to attend the meeting on the 7th, though this meeting is to explain the cub scout program, there will be someone there to direct prospective scouts to a source of information.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY TO Phyllis and Doug Ford on September 3rd.

GUESS WHO IS sporting a simply fabulific engagement ring? Gene Howe's very own Loy Bell, who teaches a first grade class at the school. The lucky fella is one Dr. Tom Gerald, a veterinarian. The date hasn't been set as yet for this happy young couple to wed, but "It could be any time now." Best wishes to you both from all of us!

A HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Bill Dee Seth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Seth, who celebrated on August 27th.

SOME DADDIES NEVER get to know what it's really like to be a mother. Don Palmer was indoctrinated into this field last week, complete with emergency run to the doctor's office and a session of car trouble to boot. Daughter Shonda was trying out the new water fountain at the school park, and when she was jostled, her poor forehead was cut. Mother Raydell was out of pocket, so daddy Don was called and rushed Shonda to see the doc. After having six stitches taken in her forehead and receiving treatment for a black eye, Shonda was more than ready to go home. So was daddy, but this is where the car trouble started. His car having died on the parking lot, Don called for help. Help came. Help broke the headlight on his car while pushing it off the lot. Etc. Etc. Etc. Shonda finally made it home, and a relieved daddy gladly went back to work. Good luck with those stitches, little one.

BILL EDWARDS GALLANTLY delayed celebrating his birthday which was on August 24, so he and his wife, Sarah, could celebrate birthdays together. Sarah's birthday is on September 1. Many happies to you both.

IT'S INEVITABLE WHEN school starts, the male species (regardless of age) turn to thoughts of football. Gene Howe youngsters turned out in full force for football this year. So many signed up, in fact, that there is one sixth grade team coached by Dick Balke and Leonard Schmidt; one fifth grade team coached by Euris Phipps and Bob Paris; one team coached by Ricky Smith composed of fifth and sixth graders. Coach Smith also doubles as the Physical Education Assistant at Gene Howe, taking the boys in hand. The fourth grade football team is coached by Sam Minier, who gets double brotherly assistance from Ron and Don Minier. Good luck to all these teams and their coaches—we will all be rooting for you.

AN EXTRA SPECIAL happy birthday to an extra special young man, namely, Marty Mulherin. Thank you, son, for twelve lively and happy years.

BILL AND ERNESTINE Harp managed to make parting with their son, Duane, a bit more fun than partings usually are. They and guest, Anita White, daughter of Jimmy and Winona White, and Duane drove to Texas A&M, where Duane is a sophomore this year, and attended to the necessities of enrollment. On to Houston to tour the Astrodome and NASA. Then to Galveston for a ferryboat ride, seafood and wading in the gulf. (Actually, Ernestine and Bill waded—Duane and Anita took the opportunity to do some swimming). Back to Houston the next day. This time around they went to the Galleria, which is a new shopping center built on four levels. An ice skating rink is located on the lower level. The shops are situated on balconies and shoppers can watch the skaters. Back to College Station and goodbys to Duane, then to Dallas for a visit with Ernestine's sister. After visiting various aunties on the way, the Harps and Anita finally made it home.

SYMPATHIES ARE EXTENDED to the Carl Johnson family in the recent loss of Carl's father, Mr. Frank Johnson.

THE ANNUAL TRI State Tennis Tournament is scheduled this weekend. Play will start at nine o'clock each morning Saturday and Sunday at various courts around Amarillo. The play-offs will be held on Monday, at the Amarillo Tennis Center. All West Texas State University tennis teams and some of the Gene Howe tennis buffs will be playing in this tournament, so make plans to drop by with a few dozen words of encouragement. Top seeded players from the area will be taking part, so you will be guaranteed some excellent matches.

LABOR DAY—A legal holiday in honor of the laboring class. A rather lighthearted interpretation of the purpose of this holiday will give the less energetic of us a legitimate excuse for joining in on the honoring and the festivities. Have fun. Be careful.

300 Participants In Jr. High Ball

Almost 300 junior high school boys are participating in football this fall, and Coach Bob Sloan hopes each boy gets as much out of the program as he puts into it.

Six junior high teams—two for each grade level—begin intramural play today. Their regular schedule against out-of-town opponents begins next week.

For Sloan, coordinator of the junior high program, the football system in Canyon is unique.

"It lets each boy have an opportunity to participate in organized athletics to determine whether he wants to continue in it or make some other choice," Sloan said. "We want everyone to participate no matter how small, large or good they are."

Indeed, that's the purpose of the junior high program.

"If they don't like it we have other programs they can enjoy," Sloan said.

"The program is set up with the attitude that everyone learn to work together as a team without any real regard to winning and losing," he said. "We could really care less if we win a ball game. We just want them to enjoy the game."

Sloan praised Canyon's program as giving many more boys a chance to play. He noted that the junior high program provides for two teams in each grade rather than just one team.

Participation is the key to holding a boy's interest in athletics, Sloan said.

"Take my own life—If I hadn't had a good coach who was understanding, if he hadn't let me play some, and for kids, I probably never would have continued in athletics," he said. "I only weighed 80 pounds and there was no way I could help the team win because I was just too small."

Sloan said very little is predictable about the growth of a junior high age boy.

"He may be a small kid who can't compete in junior high, but we don't know what kind of athlete he's going to be when he gets into high school," he said.

In addition, Sloan feels the boys can learn a great deal from their stint in junior high athletics.

"I think the greatest thing a kid can learn is self-discipline," he said. "It helps him now and will help him forever."

Sloan, who has 12 years in the coaching field, is a graduate of Oklahoma State University. He received his masters degree from Central State University in Oklahoma.

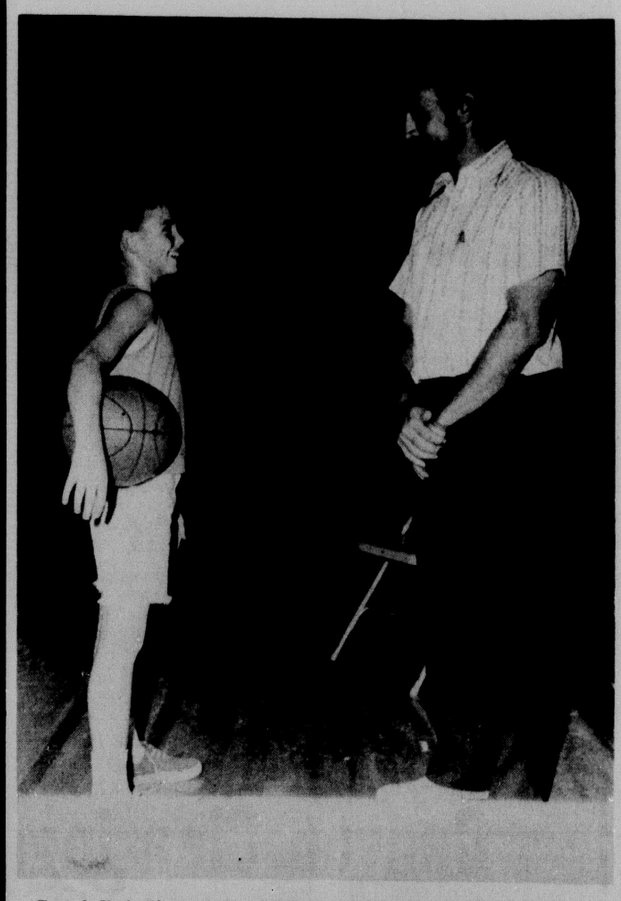

XKZ Brunch Opens Year

A "Beginning Day Brunch" in the home of Mrs. Charles Peckenpaugh, east of Canyon last Friday, started off the year's parade of events for Xi Kappa Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. Herbert Kuhlman, president, presided at the planning meeting. Yearbooks were distributed and upcoming events scheduled, including the "Little Miss Canyon Pageant" to be held Oct. 21 at Canyon High School.

A brunch of fresh fruits, chicken salad, homemade bread and cherry-meringue dessert was served to Mmes. Bob Brotherton, Tommy Hunter, Herbert Kuhlman, Johnny Robinson, Bill Thomas, and Miss Virginia Rossiter, by the hostess.

The sorority's next meeting will be at 8 p.m., Sept. 5, in the home of Mrs. Kuhlman, east of Canyon.

Coach Bob Sloan, coordinator of junior high football program, talks with a young gym student during classes Tuesday. Sloan said more than 250 boys are playing football this fall in the junior high program.

Sisters Have Narrow Escape

HOWDY AGAIN. GUESS school days really cut into a lot of folks' summer; haven't had much word from too many doing too much travelling this past week. If, that is a big IF, you missed this column last week it is because it wasn't there. With school starting and all that goes with it, I clean forgot the column and woke up Thursday morning and remembered it. I sure felt silly, but any way will try to make up for it.

BLANCHE AND MIKE Hudson may need to have an open house with all the work they have been doing lately on their house. Getting ready for the new addition expected at a later date. Sure all looks so nice and proud it's almost all finished.

WENT WALKIN INTO the movie the other evening with the bunch and who should be sitting on the back row but the Whitehead family. Roger had the little 'un, Rebecca Ann, and Mike had the middle 'un, Rosemary, and Spooky and Shelley were just enjoying themselves watching the movie. We all enjoyed it together. Kinda funny though. we had to sort of rig up a silent agreement with the couple on the far end of the row to not let Rosemary by pass them on that end or we would all still be hunting her.

HAD A COUPLE of reunions this past weekend. The Cooper's motored down to Tulia to the Clayton reunion, which is on DeAnn's side of the family. Said her grandfather's brother was there and the last one of that older generation. But families just go on and on. Had about 70 present.

THE TOWS MANAGED to gather all up and get to one place at the same time. They had such a nice time in Thompson Park Saturday. Rain seemed to try and stop it all, but they just rented the Boat and Ski Club and went on with the fun. Had around 70 there and played ball and did what all good all American families do on Saturday afternoon.

SHERRY AND GLENNA Evans had a most exciting trip this past weekend. They went with their church's young people's choir to Questa, N.M. to sing at Sunday services. Went horseback riding, rode the ski lift, had a evening service around the camp fire and just had a wonderful time together. Then on the way back the bus had engine trouble and they were towing the bus and something went wrong with the towing hook up, and down a steep mountain the bus came at break neck speed. It was all very scarey had not the Lord truly watched over them all, about 30 teenagers wouldn't be here today. The driver told me he still didn't know what stopped the bus, but I do!! Anyway, it was a wonderful trip and a lot of good was accomplished by these kiddoes. Only minor injuries occurred and for that we are all thankful.

HELLO TO JIMMY and Jane Cowen who spent a fun-filled weekend with the Tow's last weekend. Jill you forgot your suitcase!!

HAVE YOU NOTICED the new foundation going down next the South end of our pasture? More new neighbors!! Will give you more information next week. Haven't been able to catch the misses there yet to talk with her.

THE NEW NEIGHBORS down the block from the Evans are the Cox's, now there are two. Mr. Cox works in Hereford and commutes everyday. He builds stock pens. Sam had a nice long chat with Mrs. Cox the other evening in the yard and then forgot all the important information before he could tell me. Yea for husbands!!

SAW A FEW of you all here and there. The Buckles boys were out with a batch of fellows playing in their cute little 6-wheel mobile. Gee, it sure looks like fun, wish I could have a ride. Mr. Hinson stay off your house top! If you fall it will truly hurt. Hello to Joyce Minor and Marcy who'l see through the kitchen window each time I drive by. Sure do like the new pickup and camper the Rosses are sporting around. Enjoyed the recent article on our friend and neighbors The Fowlkes, in the Canyon News. Saw Mrs. Robinson and Nancy enjoying the evening with a bike ride around the park. Happy birthday to my own little darling, Leslie. Saw Mr. Garrison out working hard in his yard, also, saw Mr. Woods doing the same. Get well to my good pal and friend Mr. Bedwell. Hello Mrs. Patterson, who ALWAYS waves as she goes by. Always makes me feel good and seems all's right with the world when neighbor enjoys and loves neighbor. Not always time for a chat but a wave will do.

WITH ALL THOSE cucumbers everyone seems to have plenty of, here's a good idea:

Make Dill Pickles, the easy way

Wash cucumbers thoroughly. Fill jars and add to each quart:

1 pod hot peppers (if desired)
1 clove garlic
1 dill head
¼ tsp. alum to quart

Heat:

1 qt. white vinegar
2 qt. water
½ cup salt (full measure)

When brine is boiling pour over cukes in jars, wipe tops of jars. Seal. Let sit for a few weeks before eating to let cukes absorb the brine. Reminder: Wash, rewash and wash again every utensil used. Be sure nothing has grease on it or the pickles will be soft.

SO ONCE AGAIN see you next week. For those of you who have forgotten, or at least seemed to have forgotten my number for news. The NEWS NUMBER is 622-1471, call me, I'm waiting.

ONE LAST WORD: To all those chubbies: including me. Remember 10 minutes of trampolining equals 30 minutes jogging, so get to jumping.

Riders Entertain Guests

By MARY JO GRIFFIN

HAPPY SECOND WEEK of school. Hopefully this week has been as pleasant as the first one. Watching the bus load and unload is again a daily thing here. Found an article in the September issue of The Farmer Stockman entitled "School Days Affect Mothers in Several Different Ways" in which I fit perfectly with the writer. But knowing that the children are getting a good education makes it all worth while.

RICKY TANKERSLEY IS celebrating a birthday today. Happy Birthday, Ricky.

MARSHA AND TOMMY Goodwin of Abilene were guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Jones and Lee Don. They all attended the wedding Penny Morton and Bobby Johnson. Marsha was in our home for a short while Saturday and we enjoyed the visit.

TWO WEDDING ANNIVERSARIES are on our calendar this week. Happy Anniversary Sunday the 3rd to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nance and Tuesday the 5th to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grace.

MRS. JOHN RIDER and daughter Michelle recently went to Brush, Colorado, and brought Audrey's aunt, Mrs. Irma Skiles home with them for a visit. Later, Mrs. J.J. Carter and son Jake of Tucumcari, New Mexico, were here for dinner with the Riders and Mrs. Skiles went to visit in their home. Other guests of the Rider family last week were John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Rider from Gage, Oklahoma. They saw the performance "Texas" in Palo Duro Park and celebrated the 78th birthday of Mr. Rider.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY SATURDAY, Sept. 2 to Tammie Allen and Sunday, Sept. 3 to Janice Gallup. Have a great year ahead.

IN TALKING WITH Jewell Huneycutt this week, we found so much in common with our short summer. They have been busy, busy with their garden and other activities. The boys have the cutest tree house and really enjoy "living" in it.

LAST WEEK WANDA Leith was in Dallas for a business meeting with Sarah Coventry Inc. She returned home in time for the weekend with her family.

WE ARE ALL looking forward to the Labor Day weekend. Having our first school holiday with time for that last summer trip or outing, do plan to call so we can get it in our neighborhood section. Have a good week and do be extra careful in the weekend traffic.

Area Square Dancers Meet For Fun, Exercises

By LINDA LOCKETT

The record starts quietly, "Get your partners"; the music begins; and all of a sudden, there's a flurry of full skirts and petticoats, clapping and lots of laughter.

It's the Canyon Capers square dance club, which meets every Monday at 8-10:30 p.m. in the West Texas State University Activities Center.

Frank Ham, president of Canyon Capers, said square dancing is "a lot of fun, good exercise and a way to stay young." "You never see any old square dancers," Ham said laughingly.

Susan Lindemann of the Umbarger Pistols and Petticoats club said square dancers are "real friendly." "People don't feel bashful or awkward about dancing with partners other than their husband, wife or boyfriend," she explained.

Miss Lindemann, who is the sweetheart of her club, attended a state square dance convention in Fort Worth this summer with about 8000 other square dance enthusiasts.

She explained that a person belonging to a square dance club can go to another club anywhere in the nation and feel at home.

Other good points about square dancing, said Miss Lindemann, are that it is inexpensive entertainment and lively exercise.

"It's fun when you mess up and fun when you do good." the WTSU senior said and added that usually the steps come "automatically" after one learns.

"We've had two weddings in our club," Miss Lindemann said proudly.

Pistols and Petticoats celebrated its first anniversary in February with 28 squares of dancers. Usually they have about eight squares, said Miss Lindemann.

Unlike Canyon Capers, which is for married couples, the Umbarger club has fourth graders to grandparents.

Pistols and Petticoats meets at 7:30 p.m. on the first, third and fifth Sunday at the Umbarger Parish Hall. President is Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Skarke.

Miss Lindemann described a typical square dance night: a tip, made up of a hash and singing call, rest period and then a round dance.

She said a hash is made up of different patterns and a girl dances mainly with the same partner. During a singing call, dancers dance to a popular song and do what the caller tells them to do. Girls make their way around a circle, dancing with different partners and end with the original partner.

Miss Lindemann said the round dance is "kinda like folk dancing."

The Canyon Capers Club usually has about 14 couples. President is Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ham.

Other officers include Mr. and Mrs. Bob Podzemny, vice president and reporter; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hall, secretary-treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. Noble Brown, social chairman; and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Dugan, Panhandle Square Dance Association representatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Pitt, past president, are now on the club board. Knox Day is the club caller, and Mrs. Lurlene Johnson is sweetheart.

Canyon Capers was host club recently for a PSDA sweetheart jamboree dance at the WTSU Activities Center. Ham said there were about 41 squares of eight people each.

Dr. James Davis, head of the WTSU accounting department, organized a WTSU square dance club last November, and it now meets with Canyon Capers.

Davis enphasized that WTSU faculty and students are invited to the Monday night Canyon Capers dances.

Visitors to the Canyon Capers and Pistols and Petticoats square dance clubs may see a part of the heritage of the West, as the brightly-dressed women do-si-do in billowy skirts and their partners clap and laugh loudly. And unlike many modern dances, partners actually touch each other!

Mrs. Dee Renken and Frank Ham enjoy a whirl around the square dance circle at the Canyon Capers square dance Monday night in the West Texas State University Activities Center.

Drivers Warned Of Buses

A Canyon school official this week warned local drivers to watch for school buses and to obey state law which requires cars to stop when approaching a stopped school bus.

"We've had two or three violations of this in the last few days," said Ray Schultz, school business manager.

Schultz said the law requires drivers to stop their cars when they approach a stopped school bus with its blinker lights flashing.

Schultz also noted the regulations which govern students riding school buses to Canyon schools.

They include the following:

1. The driver is in full charge of the bus and pupils. Pupils must obey the driver promptly and cheerfully.
2. Pupils must obey and respect the orders of monitors or patrols on duty.
3. Pupils must be on time as the bus cannot wait for those who are tardy.
4. Pupils must never stand in the roadway while waiting for the bus. They shall wait a sufficient distance from the pavement to allow room for the bus to pull off the pavement onto the shoulder.
5. Outside of ordinary conversation, classroom conduct is to be observed.
6. Save snacks and soft drinks for later—do not bring food or liquids on the bus.
7. The use of tobacco in the bus is not permitted.
8. Pupils must not, at any time, extend their arms or heads out of the bus window.
9. Pupils must not throw waste paper or other rubbish on the floor of the bus.
10. Pupils must not try to get on or off the bus or move about within the bus while it is in motion.
11. Any damage to the bus must be reported at once to the driver and /or principal.
12. PENALTY: For violation of any of these rules a pupil will be reported to the school principal who can bar him temporarily or permanently from riding the bus.

Lions Club Carnival Is For Kids Of All Ages

By LINDA LOCKETT

Although the drizzling rain was threatening to ruin the fun, carnival goers early this week continued to ride the Scat Cat, the Rollaplane and the other rides of the Jest Amusement Company at the opening night of the Lions Club Carnival.

Continuing through Saturday, the annual fair was attended Monday night by kids of all ages from the wee ones to the older chaperones, many of whom eyed the Moonwalk, perhaps with a secret longing to jump uninhibitedly on the bouncy surface.

In the middle of the fair, which is across from Rex Reeves Elementary School, is the Lions Club bingo table, where people may win sugar, coffee and other staples.

The Canyon Rainbow Assembly has a popcorn booth. "They're the biggest 10-cent bags of popcorn in the country," the man assured.

A member of the Amarillo Khiva Shriners was deftly creating balloon dogs for fairgoers, while children were becoming sticky from the gooey caramel apples.

Junior and senior high students seemed to want something to remember the rainy carnival night with, as they shouted, "Take my picture—take our picture—please put that in the paper."

What about the fair workers? Do they have as much fun as the fair-goers? Don't they ever get tired of moving from one town to another all the time?

"We don't want to stay in one place—we can't make any money that way," said one happy carnival worker.

The carnival was just in Floydada, and the next stop is Wellington. The carnival family (most of the ten are related with "a couple of offbreeds") move on Saturday and Sunday.

They live in small trailers. "We have television sets and everything we need. We live pretty confortably," said one of the workers.

As two girls approach the Moonwalk attendant and ask how much the tickets are and how long one gets to "moonwalk" inside the tent. "I guess I get asked that 100 times a day," said the worker smilingly..

About that time, it is decided the wind is getting up to high to have the Moonwalk, so it is deflated. Maybe the attendant won't reach 100 times after all.

"Send all the girls by the Hammer," a young carnival worker exhorted.

He seemed to be having fun, as did all the carnival workers—perhaps because their business is enabling other people, from 3 to 83, to have fun.

Three-year-old Ivan McClain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClain, 1412 7th Ave., holds a balloon dog and thinks of all the rides left to go on at the Lions Club carnival across from Rex Reeves Elementary School. The carnival continues through Saturday.

Two little girls chug along on the train ride at the Lions Club Carnival which will continue in Canyon through Saturday.

Homecoming Will Honor 1952 Girls' Team

By MARY NEAL HENRY

SCHOOL IS WELL under way. According to Mark Nichol's tablegram the enrollment reached 477; 101 in the top four grades, 21 in kindergarten, and 32 in the first grade. This is a reversal of the past few years statistics—upward instead of declining.

ANGELIQUE CAME HOME the second day of school, her arms loaded with books and book covers and announced, "We've got to wrap these." So we "wrapped them.

MANDI SHIPMAN CAME in from kindergarten the first day totally disappointed that that teacher didn't teach her how to read. These children's expectations are surprising.

SHERI IS ENROLLED and attending classes at West Texas. So is Debra McDonald, Anita Schoenenberger, Sharen Dietz, Debra Jackson, Steve Cole, Jim Whitlow, Kathy Bates Levitt, Walter Stubblefield.

BARRY STEVENS IS attending West Texas this year on a basketball scholarship..

TERRY STEVENS WILL be attending Tech.

RICK SPEAR WILL be attending Amarillo Junior College.

BILL PEARSON IS at Levelland attending South Plains.

KAY SHEETS IS in Goodwell, Okla. at Panhandle State College.

TERRY TODD IS working this semester.

RICKEY HAWTHORNE IS in the service.

CHRIS BRADLEY, MEL and Phil's, is at Clarendon Junior College. Mr. and Mrs. Price Bradley spent the weekend in Gruver with Phil and Melvin Bradley last week.

BY THE WAY, Joe Bob Jones and Dan Rahlfs won the doubles in the horse shoe pitching contest during the Happy Days Celebration.

HOMECOMING, SEPTEMBER 29, will honor the 1952 Girls' Basketball Team. These girls won District, Bi-District and were first runner-up at the Regional Tournament. The 1922 Football team, Happy's first, will also be honored and all the classes of 1972, 1962, 1952, 1942, 1932, and 1922, and 1912.

MARY PHIFER AND more of the class of 1952 are having a class reunion on Saturday, Sept. 30, at the Jaycee Hall. I understand the bar-b-que will be catered. I'm not in that class, but I'm going. That is the class I ran around with mostly. You all count me.

J.J. LANE had a skunk under his house last week. He put a little radio by the vent under the house and turned the volume up loud. When I asked if it worked J.J. said, "That loud rock music would get rid of anything." J.J. had gotten rid of the mud martins at the church entry that way.

J.J. AND Jessie C. Lane celebrated their thirtieth anniversary last week.

DELLA AND BOB Henry have been to Colorado to see Della's sister.

HOL TOLES AND Cindy Toles rode a dog sled on their recent tour of Alaska. Novalene, John, Cindy and Hol, drove to Seattle, Washington and then flew to Anchorage. They traveled from there by train to Fairbanks and Cindy and Hol went as far north as Point Berra (in the Arctic Circle)where they rode the dog sleds and saw the "real" eskimoes or less modernized ones, that is. The Toles went by bus to White Horse in the Yukon Territory and then by narrow gage railway to Skagway. They returned to Victoria (British Columbia) on a ship along the inland passage and then by ferry to Seattle. They were able to visit both the Bill Todd and Joe Billy Wise families for a few minutes in Washington State. Thank you all for sharing your trip with us. Jerry and Lillie Shipman of Hereford spent the weekend with Judy and Gene. Mandi and Raphe Shipman.

HAPPY JAYCEES AND Jaycee-Ettes attended an Installation Banquet in Plainview Saturday night. Plainview though still holding a charter, has been an inactive club in recent months. Susan and Lloyd Rahlfs, Betty and James Stockett, Joy and Norman Freeman, Dottie and Dick Foster, and Kay and Vincent Venhaus helped give plainview some moral support for the coming year.

THE McGEHEE REUNION was held at Hidden Falls Ranch on Sunday. Sixty-two attended and left a sizeable donation to Hidden Falls. (It'd make a good story, Margo).

MAMA PEARL, Sheri's address is Brown Hall, Room D-7, Canyon 79015. We haven't forgotten you. I'll write soon.

Tidbits here and there

By CAROL CRAIN

SOME INTERESTING TRAVEL NOTES on Europe were given by Canyon teacher Mrs. Donna Wilson in a recent conversation. Donna traveled extensively abroad during June with a tour.

THE AGENDA includes tours in Amsterdam; Innsbruck, Cologne, Germany; Venice; Italy; a cruise down the Rhine River, a visit to Heidelburg and Lucerne, Switzerland.

Donna rode the Cog railroad up Mt. Pilatus in the Alps, visited St. Marks Cathedral and Square in Florence, toured Medici, seeing a number of Michaelangelo's works including the sculpture of David.

During the group's three days in Rome, Donna was able to see St. Peter's Cathedral, and the Roman Forum. They then went to Naples and the Isle of Capri.

The Isle of Capri was her favorite place. The tour visited the Blue Grotto where the water was extremely blue and beautiful.

Donna, who is among the "TEXAS" company each season, had lined the bottom of a suitcase with brochures from the musical drama and left them at hotels, giving them to other tourists who might be interested. There, on the Isle of Capri, the Canyonite met a woman from Wichita Falls—she had heard about "TEXAS"—even more from Donna's own experiences. One evening this season as Donna was selling programs the woman came up to her and said "Remember me? You told me about the show when we were on the Isle of Capri!" "TEXAS" people search for every possible way to share this great show with others—I am here to tell you!)

Donna's other stops included Fontainbleau, Genoa, Nice, Monocco, a swim in the Mediterrean on the French Riveria, a visit to Grenoble, the Louvre and Eiffel Tower in Paris and from there London.

After a trip across the English Channel in a Hovercraft, the group toured London. One stop was to see the musical version of "Gone With the Wind" at Drury Lane Theatre. Actress Betty White was among the members of the audience.

It was back home from their and then back to "TEXAS".

GRACE KNIGHTON was also on a recent European tour, I understand.

FOR THE SPRING FIESTA Meeting held in Fort Worth the Directors of National Farm Life Insurance encompassed their convention material between the lovely pictures and verses of Ideals Friendship issue.

This was an interesting PR and convention touch—certainly one that wouldn't be thrown away. The new book was held together by bright yellow plastic rings.

State Prexy Spells Out AAUW's Vital Concerns

Almost 60 members and prospective members turned out to greet Mrs. Jeannette Poole, Texas Division president of American Association of University Women, at a reception held Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Frank Blackburn, 413 Taylor Lane.

Mrs. John Green, president of the Canyon Branch of AAUW, received with Mrs. Poole and Mrs. Blackburn. Assisting the hostess at the punchbowl were Dr. Ruth Lowes, Mrs. Lynn Guy, and Mrs. Audrey Sanders. Mrs. Fred Stoker, membership chairman, presented members with name tags and year books.

"We wish we could get as much 'clout' in Austin as we have in Washington," said Mrs. Jeannette Poole, Texas Division president of the American Association of University Women, speaking to the gathering seated in the living room of the Blackburn home.

'Clout' is the catchword for political impact now popular in Washington, she explained, telling of the red-carpet treatment afforded AAUW by the State Department recently. "We met and talked with Secretary Rogers and were taken on a tour of the State Department building," she recalled.

Mrs. Poole, a youthful-looking grandmother and mathematics teacher from San Marcos had come to Canyon with a head full of ideas to help women bring about constructive growth on many fronts—ecology, public education, government, women's rights.

"Only he who attempts the absurd can achieve the impossible," she advised the group, injecting her serious message with a note of humor. Then she began on the national level and showed how the program could be implemented right down to the local level.

For example, the AAUW is interested in "securing equal opportunities for women in education, industry, government, and the professions." The State head then showed how the interest is translated into action.

"Take the case of Lola Beth Green on the faculty of Texas Tech who had been overlooked for promotion for years, apparently in favor of men. Her case was brought to the attention of Denise May of our legal services in Austin. We talked with the dean who had refused her promotion and helped her prepare her case. Her case comes up in Federal District Court in New Orleans in a few months. I talked with her recently in Levelland about her problem."

But AAUW, Mrs. Poole emphasized, is not a "women's liberation" group. Their interests are much broader.

The "crisis in public education" she gave as one of the most vital concerns of her organization. Mrs. Poole herself has attended high-level seminars on education and was editor for "Texas Project Re-Entry," an intensive AAUW effort to collect factual information on programs for continuing education of mature women in Texas.

"I think what the crisis means to most people is the problem of financing school systems," she had stated earlier in informal remarks to local officers of AAUW. "With the recent Rodriguez case, property taxes as the main source of financing school systems have been ruled out. When the Texas legislature meets next year we will be watching them to see how they handle this problem. We will probably find a heavier corporation income tax being levied—at present it is very low."

"When schools are financed from state funds, the question also arises as to how the funds will be allocated," she said. "Are we going to lower the quality of education in some schools, to raise the quality in others?—I don't think so.

"Another question is whether we should allocate any funds at all to private or parochial schools. In Laredo, there are three Catholic schools facing very severe financial problems. If they are closed down, it will mean an added burden to taxpayers."

Stressing the interest of her group in all aspects of education, Mrs. Poole praised the Canyon branch for its volunteer efforts in tutoring in past years. She went on to describe the AAUW's "Reading Is Fundamental" in action. "I was surprised to find the Pecos Branch with barely 15 members had bought all the books and materials to enable one fourth-grade class to start on the program."

Mrs. Poole moved on to the subject of AAUW's program of graduate fellowships which now support 80 American grants and 50 international grants. She pinpointed the Charlotte Wyatt Fund, a memorial fund to a deceased Amarillo woman long active in AAUW and instrumental in setting up the Canyon Branch. "We are all anxious to see that fund reach $65,000 so that grants may be made from it."

In the area of government, Mrs. Poole commented on AAUW's position on revision of the Texas Constitution. "We endorse Amendment No. 7 and Proposal No. 4 . . . We had a hard time deciding whether to endorse the proposal because we didn't want to see the legislature sit as a commission to revise the Constitution. But we're realists. We have joined with the "Citizens of Texas" group and will keep a close eye on the process of changing the Constitution."

Canyon and Amarillo were final stops for Mrs. Poole on her tour of 19 branches in west Texas and the Panhandle, and she was looking forward to returning home.

"You know, I have to begin teaching Wednesday," she said with undaunted energy.

Newly-selected coordinators of Meals on Wheels in Canyon look over a charter, drafted by attorney Elton Cox, for the new organization. They are Mrs. Charles Smallwood, Mrs. J.L. Markham and Mrs. D.C. Gamble. The charter for a non-profit organization must be sent to Austin to be approved by state officials.

Mrs. Frank Blackburn was hostess to 57 AAUW women Monday night at a reception in her home at 413 Taylor Lane for Texas Division president, Mrs. Jeannette Poole. Among those she welcomed was Mrs. Nancy Purcell, wife of Rep. Graham Purcell.

Meals On Wheels Prepares To Roll

Meals on Wheels in Canyon began rolling at a meeting Sunday, when directors, coordinators and committee chairmen were chosen for the planned nonprofit organization.

Attorney Elton Cox prepared an incoporation charter this week to be approved by state authorities. He thought the charter would be returned within two weeks.

One of the future directors, Mrs. Betty Holcomb, said the Canyon Meals on Wheels, to be one of many throughout the United States, will be a total ministry, not just a meal, for citizens older than 60.

Persons selected to receive meals would be checked on, probably five days a week; and this line of communication might enable people to live in their own homes, instead of rest homes.

One hot, nutritional meal a day will be prepared and delivered by volunteers, when the program begins, at first on a small scale, explained Mrs. Holcomb.

Mrs. Holcomb said about 40 persons attended the Sunday meeting. "We had a great crosssection of people," she said.

Along with Mrs. Holcomb, Dr. Ples Harper and the Rev. J. Frank Peery were selected directors. Coordinators are Mrs. D.C. Gamble, Mrs. Charles Smallwood and Mrs. J.L. Markham.

Also at the meeting, committee members and chairmen were selected for seven work areas—food service, finance, recipient interviews, driver volunteers, volunteers service, emergency service and publicity.

Temporary office space for Meals on Wheels will be provided by the First United Methodist Church.

Immediate needs of the organization are volunteers and financial aid, in the form of donations or pledges of support from individuals, church groups, civic clubs and other organizations.

Referral forms, with which persons can suggest people they think might qualify for the program, are being placed this week in churches, doctors' offices, drugstores and grocery stores.

Recipients will be chosen after they get physicals, and a doctor checks to see if they need a special type meal.

Mrs. Holcomb summarized her hope for the Canyon Meals on Wheels: "It's a community endeavor with a Christian thrust to administer to the needs of older Canyon citizens."

In the box by this story is a referral form for the newly-organized Meals on Wheels of Canyon. Persons may use this form to suggest Canyon residents older than 60 who may qualify for the program.

Those selected will probably receive one hot, nutritional meal five days a week.

Forms are also being placed in churches, drugstores, grocery stores and doctors' offices this week.

Referral Form

We are making every effort to become acquainted with all persons over 60 years of age in our community who are unable to fix a hot well balanced meal once a day. Would you please fill out this form for anyone in your neighborhood who might qualify and return to: Meal on Wheels, P.O. Box 104, Canyon, Texas 79015.

Laurie Davidchik proudly displays a bass she caught on a recent fishing trip on the Arkansas River with her father, David Davidcheck, 1413 Creekmere, and friends. They spent a week cruising and fishing in their 19-foot Sterncraft.

Family Finds Fishing Good

The David Davidchiks of 1413 Creekmere have returned from a vacation on the Arkansas River and in New Orleans. David and daughter Laurie, accompanied by Delmar Watkins and son Mike of Pampa, launched their 19-foot Sterncraft at Tulsa and spent a week cruising and fishing the Arkansas River to Little Rock. In Lake Darnell, Ark., along the way, they caught five bass, the smallest of which weighed 6 lbs. David caught one weighing 7 lbs., and Laurie caught three fish. They also fished the Kerr Reservoir in Oklahoma.

At the end of their fishing trip in Little Rock, they were met by Mrs. Davidchik and daughters Carrie Beth and Davolyn, and her mother Mrs. E.B. Brown, and Mrs. Watkins and son Jo. All drove to New Orleans for two days of sightseeing and visiting before returning home.

Weavers Host WAGS Meeting

Writers of the Golden Spread met Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Ann Weaver, 416 Lair Ln., with Glenna Wilson assisting as co-hostess.

After a brief tour of Mrs. Weaver's home, the group settled to the business of reading and critiquing articles, poems and stories by members of the group. Included in the readings were songs by Hope McKenzie, who also plays and sings her creations as well.

Refreshments of punch, cookies, chips and dips were served.

After the workshop, Mrs. Weaver entertained the group by reading a short resume of a trip she and her son had made to Holland during the tulip blossom time. This was prelude to the viewing of slides which showed the group how the people of Holland practice the ecology preached in this country.

Mrs. Weaver's son, who showed the slides, explained the difficulties of photographing the tulips amid thousands of people. In a fairy garden of color, each rain-wet and brilliant tulip seemed to stand proudly alone in its own pattern of design.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frank, Charles McIntosh, Peggy Stock, Ann Brown, Marcia Caldwell, Lee Mash, Edna Turner, Hope McKenzie, Margerie Brewer, Esther Brotherton, Rosemary Kollmar, Geneva Berry and Mrs. Weaver and her son Willie.

The next meeting of W.A.G.S. will meet Thursday, Aug. 31, with Dora Davis, at 3517 Lenwood in Amarillo.

National Feed Company Sued For $300,000

A Randall County firm and its corporate parent filed a $334,000 damage suit against the Ralston-Purina Company alleging the company supplied contaminated feed which resulted in sterilization of sows owned by the county firm.

Suit was filed in 181st District Court by Environmental Applications, Inc., of Delaware and its wholly owned subsidiary, Texas Agri-Science, Inc., south of Canyon.

Texas Agri-Science, Inc., runs a controlled environment facility about 4 miles south of Canyon for the raising of hogs. It began business in the summer of 1971.

The suit filed Wednesday alleges that the local company contracted during the summer of 1971 with Ralston-Purina Company for the nationally-known feed company to supply feed for all hogs in the Randall County facility.

Shortly after the facility began operations and the defendant began furnishing feed, the manager at the hog farm "began to experience difficulty in their breeding program in that many sows demonstrated symptoms of sterility or low production," the suit says.

The suit states that the hogs in the Randall County farm were of the same genetic background as were hogs raised in other parts of the country by the plaintiff, and that because of this the management suspected outside causes were at fault.

The manager of the plant began to check the feed brought to the farm by the Ralston-Purina Company in October or November of 1971, the suit says, and discovered pellets of a hormone diethylstilbestrol.

Samples of the feed were sent to laboratories in December 1971 and "the results confirmed suspicions that it did contain a high level" of the hormone, the suit alleges.

The suit says the farm management informed the Ralston-Purina Company about the appearance in their feed of the hormone and was told to continue using the feed.

"On one occasion the plant manager of the defendant's Amarillo facility told the employees of the plaintiff's that they could do nothing to prevent the contamination and thereafter the plaintiff discontinued purchasing the ration from the defendant's Lubbock facility," the suit alleges.

In addition, the farm management slaughtered 23 sows and autopsies revealed that although the sows were being bred, none showed signes of pregnancy and many showed a cystic ovarian condition, the suit says.

"Pathological and physiological tests at Oklahoma State University have established conclusively that the hormone diethylstilbestrol resulted in the sterile condition of the sows," the suit alleges.

The Randall County hog farm and its parent corporation are represented by Ochsner & Baughman, Amarillo attorneys.

School Board Raises Taxes By 5¢

A five-cent tax rate increase was voted Tuesday night by the board of the Canyon Independent School District.

The five-cent hike, which is expected to bring an extra $31,000 into school coffers annually, raises the tax rate to $1.70 per $100 on 51 per cent valuation.

Tuesday night's action to raise taxes involved little discussion. The board members had discussed the rate increase in their Aug. 15 meeting.

School Supt. Jerry Jacobs reiterated that the extra nickle can be used for special projects the board may want to pursue this year.

The rate hike vote followed closely a review by the board of another draft of the 1972-73 fiscal year budget of almost $2.6 million.

"As I see it, a tax rate to cover what we've allowed for in our 72-73 budget would take $1.65," Jacobs said. "Now, to include any special projects of any nature would take some additional rate money."

School district residents have been taxed at the $1.65 rate for four years.

"I personally believe it's just good business to do some of these things along rather than wait and include them in a bond issue," the superintendent said.

"I personally feel we'd be better off to maybe get some of the small projects finished every year rather than wait and issue bonds later," said board member Ed Wieck.

The board members indicated that an increase in the tax rate now might forestall an issuance of bonds in the near future.

The board did not decide on any special projects Tuesday night on which the money would be spent.

The proposed 72-73 budget reflects total expenditures of $2,567,500 and total revenue of $2,570,700.

The new budget is about $50,000 higher than last year's amended budget of $2,516,000.

State sources provide the greatest revenue—$1.5 million— in the proposed budget.

The largest expenditure in the budget is for instructional salaries. A total of almost $1.4 million is budgeted for these.

A total of $1.5 million is budgeted for instructional purposes, making this the most expensive category in the budget.

School administration is budgeted $123,000, pupil transportation is budgeted $109,700, a general administration fund is budgeted $124,000 and $198,000 is budgeted for maintenance and operation.

A total of $297,000 is budgeted for debt service.

The board members must meet again and set a public hearing date for the proposed budget.

The board approved Tuesday night an amended budget of $2.5 million for the last fiscal year.

Originally, the budget had been $2.4 million.

Jacobs said the adjustment up was necessary for several reasons, primarily a $29,000 increase in instructional costs, and a $15,000 increase in capital outlay.

He noted that about $80,000 more has been included in the

Wants Another Deputy

Sheriff Seeks Office Improvements

Randall County Sheriff Cliff Longest appeared before county commissioners for the first time Monday seeking various improvements in the sheriff's office.

Longest, who was named interim sheriff two weeks ago after the death of L.S. "Slim" Johnston, said he is moving one deputy from an administrative position to the night shift patrol and requested he be allowed to hire another deputy as an administrative aid.

County Judge Woody Pond, who told commissioners he had discussed the personnel changes with Longest, said the county receives a federal grant for employment of an administrative assistant.

The assistant would be placed in the South Amarillo office.

Longest said he has made no decision yet on naming a chief deputy but he believes the chief deputy should receive a higher salary than do other deputies.

"The judge and I have discussed this and we think $50 a month difference between the chief deputy and other deputies would be sufficient," he said.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher questioned whether $50 a month would be enough.

Longest also asked the commissioners to advertise for bids for photographic supplies—paper, film and chemicals—for the coming year.

The request was approved, but commissioners took under advisement Longest's salary increase request for a chief deputy.

Commissioners replayed a scene from last week's court meeting when they once again tabled action on a resolution from the Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association seeking Federal Power Commission control over Pioneer Natural Gas Co. rates.

Commissioner Bill Butler reiterated that not enough information has been presented the

Draft End, Volunteer Army Criticized Here

President Nixon's early week reaffirmation that the military draft will be ended by next summer may have boosted the spirits of local draft-age youth, but it drew a measure of criticism from two other sectors here.

Lt. Col. John Childs, professor of military science at West Texas State University, said the end of the draft could well spell the end of Reserve Officer Training Corps on college campuses throughout the country.

An active Army reserve officer in Canyon questioned whether the Army could function effectively without a draft.

And, a member of the area Democrats for McGovern voiced concern about the effectiveness of an all-volunteer Army.

Childs said the President's announced policies concerning the draft has already taken a wide toll in college applicants in ROTC.

"Let's just look at enrollment figures," he said. "At the beginning of the school year 1968-69, we had 416 in ROTC. In 69-70, we had 402. In 70-71, we had 243 and in 71-72, we had 125."

For this fall, Childs anticipates about 100 will enroll in the ROTC program, which trains college students to become Army officers.

"I think the termination of the draft will result in a decline in ROTC," he said.

Childs, a 19-year Army veteran who won the Silver Star for action in Vietnam, said he personally feels the Army does not desire elimination of the draft and an all-volunteer force.

"I think the Army would desire to continue the draft if it had the choice for several reasons," he said. "One, it provides the mechanism to expand rapidly in the event of war. An all-volunteer force will be much more expensive because to keep men you're going to have to pay them the equivalent salary to his counterparts outside the Army or maybe higher."

Childs questioned the quality of a soldier which will be a member of the volunteer Army.

"I don't know if the quality will be as high as the American people deserve," he said. "A main advantage of the draft has been that the Army has had a cross-section of the nation in young men who bring in new blood and fresh ideas which have kept us a democratic Army."

Childs minimized the danger of an elite Army which might some day move to control the country.

"I don't think that'll happen because there's so much civilian control over the Army," he said.

A ranking Reserve Army officer in Canyon, who wished to re

DA Discusses Proposed Bills

A legislative package will be presented the next state legislature to amend several statutes including those involving oral confessions and receiving and concealing stolen property.

The Texas County and District Attornies Association will present the package. Randall County Dist. Atty. George Dowlen has served as a member of the association committee to draft the proposed amendments.

"Texas is the only state in the union that doesn't accept oral confessions by the defendant even after he's been fully informed of his rights unless the confession is reduced to writing, signed and seen by two witnesses," Dowlen told The News in outlining the various proposals. "This amendment puts Texas in accord with federal law and the other 49 states."

Dowlen said the amendment provides that if it can be shown in court that the defendant was made fully aware of his rights, waived those rights and made an oral confession then the confession would be admissable as evidence.

Another amendment to be presented the legislature involves

Kids, Inc., Needs Money To Purchase Uniforms

Canyon's Kids, Inc., program needs money.

Director Charles Gerald said early this week the program needs about $600 to purchase uniforms and equipment for the more than 100 boys who have registered to participate in this fall's football.

Local residents who wish to contribute to the program should contact Gerald or J.D. Byrd at Byrd Pharmacy.

"Canyon Kids, Inc., now has 50 football uniforms and has to buy 60 more within the next week," Gerald said. "One complete uniform costs $29."

Boys in this year's program must furnish their own shoes and socks. Each one pays a $5 registration fee, but Gerald said $4 of that goes to the Amarillo Kids, Inc., program to provide for the scheduling of Canyon teams against Amarillo teams.

The Canyon Kids, Inc., plans to field five teams this fall.

Gerald said initial plans for a flag football league may be scrapped.

"It appears there's just not enough interest," he said. "About 20 boys signed up and this isn't enough to have the teams."

Practice for the contact season began Monday here. Equipment is to be issued Friday.

Gerald said the boys will practice on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights from 4-6 p.m. Games will be played on Sunday afternoons.

Each team will probably play an 8-game schedule.

Coaches for this year's program are Max Brummett, Herb Hall, Wayne Williams, Don Rosselle and Van James.

Assistant director is Gary Fletcher and treasurer is Mrs. J.W. Palmer.

A coach talks with his team Monday afternoon as the Kids, Inc. football season begins here. The Kids, Inc., program needs about $600 to buy uniforms for the boys. Five teams will be fielded to compete with Amarillo teams.

Political Activities Stir On WT Campus

Political activity on the West Texas State University campus this fall may be slow in coming, but organizers promise that the Republicans and Democrats will be well represented long before election day.

Joe Jaquess, Area I chairman of the Texas Young Republican Federation, said the campus Young Republicans will not politic today and Friday during registration in an effort to register students to vote.

Benny Turner, last year's Young Democrat president, said he is uncertain whether his club will have members at registration today.

"We found through experience that you can't do much during registration," Jaquess said. "It takes more time than the students have."

Jaquess said the campus Young Republicans will probably campaign before election time to register students to vote.

He said, too, that if interest is sufficient, a Students For Tower

Coach Mayfield Praises WT Pass Receivers

West Texas State University football coach Gene Mayfield praised the work of pass receivers during early drills this week and was pleased with the overall progress of his Buffalo squad.

"We appear to have some receivers with good speed and catching ability," said Mayfield after Tuesday's workouts.

Mayfield was talking of speedy split ends Carl Brown, Kenneth Sellers, Tracy Dickson and David Cleveland, in addition to tight end Merced Solis and backs Billy Pritchett, Rusty Tucker, Jimmy Lisle and Cole Fraley.

Brown, Sellers and Dickson formed three-fourths of West Texas State University's 440-yard relay team in the Missouri Valley Conference spring meet in May at Memphis, Tenn. Those three, with Lee Lewis, ran a school record-breaking 40.6.

"We aren't certain yet how good we will be at throwing to those receivers, but it is nice to know we have enough speed and ability at those receiving posit-

COVERING FUMBLES

by Dan Mitch Jones

No meal has ever been better than longhorn cheese and crackers with a can of peaches for dessert eaten in a wagon yard at the end of an all day trip in a wagon—but I do not want to go back to it except in memory.

by Troy Martin FROM THE CANYON RIM

I think one of the great dangers of this era is the possibility of complete loss of touch with reality. I see a growing tendency of adult people to accept a lie as the truth and to damn the truth as a lie.

Let me give you a few examples.

Rhodesia was drummed out of the Olympics because it has not turned the country—the development of which has been accomplished almost entirely by Europeans—over to a black majority that as yet has shown no ability to rule.

On the other hand, Kenya is being allowed to compete and Kenya has suppressed its Asiatic minority with ruthlessness since the day it was granted independence

Almost a score of Communist countries are not only being allowed to compete but are also being given an unfair edge in that competition.

It was Howard Cozzell who cried foul Monday night on ABC television. "We have to be a lot better than these people to score as well as they do," Cozzell declared from Munich on live TV and I was proud of him for pointing this out.

I saw three Negro college students on a television talk show Tuesday extolling the advantages of life in the Soviet Union which they had just visited.

They said there is no class distinction in the USSR and that people work together instead of trying to best each other. They seemed to think there is something virtuous in the lack of competition.

But under close questioning they admitted that there is a national apprehension in the Soviet Union. All three of them told of being followed as they "went where they wanted to go." They noted that even the people who talked rather freely to them on the streets feared to accompany them to their hotel saying the rooms were probably bugged.

Another profile in hypocrisy is projected by Senator George McGovern, Democratic candidate for President.

Tuesday McGovern blasted the administration for not taking sterner measures to counter oppression of the Jews in the Soviet Union.

Can this possibly be the same George McGovern who wants to throw the South Vietnamese to the Communist wolves in Asia?

McGovern told a group of rabbis he would strengthen Israel and guarantee its status quo.

With what? He has already said he would decimate the armed forces and go begging to Hanoi.

Is it possible that two George McGoverns are running for President?

Graham Purcell people think the congressman will carry the Wichita Falls area with 60 percent of the vote.

"If we can break even in Amarillo we will win," a member of the Purcell staff declared.

Purcell may have a hard time breaking even in Amarillo because Randall County undoubtedly will go solid Republican if something drastic doesn't happen before the election. The county went overwhelmingly for Nixon in 1968 and a stronger vote for him is indicated this year. Pretty good coat tails for a Republican incumbent to ride I'd say.

We had a pretty good example last week of what happens when the death penalty is struck down.

Bank robbers took advantage of the fact that the death penalty has been abolished in New York. In the course of a robbery the thugs took hostages.

One of the heist men pointed out to police that he would not hesitate to kill a hostage if his terms were not met because he could not be executed for doing it.

I heard a "reformed" robber discuss the death penalty this week.

He was paroled after serving 23 years of a life sentence for murder in the course of a robbery.

"I wouldn't be here today if they had imposed the death penalty," he argued.

So what?

The man he killed isn't here and his family is still suffering.

In Britain where the death penalty has been abolished the incidence of murder has risen at an alarming rate. There is a move afoot there for the return of the gallows to protect society.

With excellent photography, The Houston Chronicle recently painted a Texas Panhandle of gnarled mesquite trees, bone dry summers, searing dust storms and arctic winters.

Pictured are forlorn shacks, defeated old folks and even a boothill cemetery.

The writer should have known better. He is a graduate of West Texas State University. I can't help wondering why he didn't include some shots of his alma mater, verdant Palo Duro Canyon, Panhandle feedlots dominating the Texas cattle industry, oil wells and lush irrigated farmland.

Planning Commission Forms Into Three Committees

The city planning and zoning commission chairman formed three standing committees within that body Monday night to focus intensified attention on special areas in the city.

Clarence Thompson formed one committee to focus primarily on zoning in the city, one to focus on planning and another to work with a code enforcement office to be established soon in the city.

The committees are to study items referred to them by the planning and zoning commission as a whole and make recommendations.

In other action, the commission voted to recommend to city commission that the parking requirement for churches in the retail and central business district be changed.

Currently, churches in this area are required to provide one off-street parking space for each three seats in the main sanctuary.

The change recommended Monday night would require the churches to provide one off-street parking space for each four seats in the main sanctuary.

The proposal to change the parking requirement for these churches was referred to the planning and zoning body several months ago by the city commission.

City Manager George Loudder said the city commision felt that due to availability of property and high land prices in the central city area, churches might have a difficult time complying with the former requirement.

"The city commission was concerned that churches might be required to build outside the downtown area because of the price and availability of land," Loudder said. "In my opinion, this would be detrimental to the downtown area."

In other business, the commission recommended the city commission approve the closing of West 8th Street from the North side of West 7th Avenue to the South line of West 5th Avenue.

Currently, although there is an easement for a street in this area, no street exists and the easement has never been used as a street, Loudder said.

Canyon Church Census To Be Taken In Oct.

Canyon ministers and about 250 volunteers from churches and church groups will conduct a community-wide census of church preference on Saturday morning, Oct. 7. The plans, drawn up at a ministerial association meeting a week ago, were announced by the Rev. Mel Hardin, director of the census.

Residents may prepare for the census by clipping a large, colorful census card from the Canyon News prior to October 7 and filling it out, to be hung on the doorknob for census takers to pick up on Saturday morning, Oct. 7, 10-12 a.m. The card will ask for names of family members, a statement of church membership and local church preference.

If census takers do not find the published form on the doorknob, they will knock at the door and leave a similar card to be collected ten minutes later.

Canyon Community Center will be rented and used as headquarters for the census activities for three consecutive Saturdays, beginning Sept. 30, Rev. Hardin stated. At the first session, a census training school will be conducted. On Oct. 7, the Center will be used to distribute materials and collect statistics brought in by the census takers.

"We feel we will get a 90-percent response from the census, said Hardin, adding that on October 14 the Community Center will be the focal point of "mopping-up" operations. Statistics will be compiled at that time, showing ministers where prospects are, and where they are not."

Plans call for the city and surroundings in an area of five to six miles to be divided into eight zones. Within the zones, each individual census taker will be responsible for 20 homes.

Zone captains for the four city zones are the Rev. H.J. Petit of the Assembly of God Church; the Rev. J. Frank Peery, of the First United Methodist Church; the Rev. Bill Foil of the First Baptist Church; and the Rev. Baldwin Stribling of the First Presbyterian Church.

So far, ten churches or student church groups have agreed to join the project, Hardin said.

WT Prof To Speak At Meeting

A West Texas State University business professor is one of two Texans invited recently to present papers at a joint national meeting of three organizations in November.

Dr. Frank Landram, who completed his doctorate last spring at Texas Tech, will speak in Atlantic City, N.J. to a joint meeting of the Operations Research Society of America, the Institute of Management Science and the American Institute of Industrial Engineers.

A professor in business at the University of Texas at Austin is the only other Texan invited to speak at the three-day convention.

Landram is to speak on "Partial Path Analysis for Personnel Evaluation, the title of a paper he submitted the convention committee several months ago.

He said his speech describes a method which can be used to validate scores on tests given job applicants to determine their potential for doing the job.

The method basically tests the tests given job applicants to determine whether they test what they're supposed to test.

"It's basically used to determine whether the tests discriminate against minority groups or ethnic groups," Landram said.

The WT professor said he has been using his method successfully for about three years in the local area to determine the validity of tests used by area firms in hiring.

Landram received his doctorate in business last spring from Texas Tech. He received his masters degree at Oklahoma University. He has been with WTSU seven years.

Dark Clouds Leave Little In County

Heavy, moisture-laden clouds hung over Randall County during the first part of this week and while they dumped deluges on other parts of the Panhandle, they dried up in this area.

Temperatures were unseasonably cool with highs ranging from the upper 60's to the upper 70's during the early part of the week.

Little moisture was recorded in the county since Sunday. Showers were only spotty around the county and while one resident reported a total of one inch of moisture, Canyon residents could boast of only a trace.

For local wheat farmers, the clouds did little more than tease.

"It was nothing to get real excited about," said County Agent John Brazzil. "We're just on the verge of having enough moisture to plant our wheat."

Brazzil said the moisture has been so erratic over the area that some farmers have already begun to plant wheat while others are still waiting for more rain.

For dryland grain sorghum farmers, the rain was too little too late.

"Our dryland sorghum is damaged too badly to recover much," Brazzil said. "But, some is hanging on pretty good. Some still could respond."

There is little to cheer about, too, in the National Weather Service forecast for the remainder of the week.

Scattered thundershowers are anticipated with temperatures in the low 80's during the day and near 60 for lows.

Probability of rain in the area through Saturday is 30-40 percent.

Record Year For "TEXAS"

It was a record year for the cast and producers of "TEXAS."

General Manager Raymond Raillard said Monday a total of 82,248 persons attended the show in Palo Duro Canyon this seventh season.

"We had an average nightly crowd of 91 per cent of our capacity," he said, "and that's good in anybody's book."

An average of 1,440 persons saw Paul Green's musical-drama each night during the season which ended Saturday.

"We had 20 sell-out nights out of 57 shows," he said. "And, we only had one rain-out."

Raillard is enthusiastic in his praise of this year's cast.

"It was the best show we ever had," he said. "Each year it gets better."

Spectators traveled many miles to come to see "TEXAS".

This season, 25 per cent of the audience came from out of the state and 64 per cent of the audience traveled more than 100 miles each way. Thirty-four per cent were returning to see the show for the second or more time.

"TEXAS" will run next year from June 21 through Aug. 25. A Sunday performance is scheduled on July 1.

Had a party? Or giving one? Tell The Canyon News about it. Telephone 655-7121, or stop by the News office on the south side of the square.

Plans Solidified For Bike Week

Plans were solidified Monday night for Canyon's first annual bicycle safety week, which is scheduled Sept. 17-23.

Chamber of commerce board members firmed up plans for a week full of activities, including a safety poster contest, safety education programs, a safety rodeo and a relay race.

The board stressed that the safety week is aimed primarily at local youngsters, but that an effort will be made to schedule activities to attract college students and adult bike riders.

Highlight of the week will be the safety rodeo and relay race on Sept. 23.

The women's division of the chamber will handle the safety poster contest, which will be held in the public schools. The poster contest will be just one of several programs to be conducted during the week to educate youngsters and oldsters about bike safety.

Larry Hooper was named to head the education programs.

Eddie Knowles will coordinate the safety rodeo, which will include a bike inspection, a registration of the bike for future identification in case it is stolen, and performance and skill competition.

The relay race will be held inside the square in downtown Canyon and directors Monday night discussed a possible 25-mile race.

Lt. Col. John Childs was named to head the committee to coordinate the relay race.

One of the prizes to be given away during the safety week will be a three-speed bicycle. Other prizes are still unnamed.

The Chamber directors will meet again in the near future to set specific times and dates for the various events.

DA's Office Gets $15,000 Through Suits

The Randall County district attorney's office has collected more than $15,000 since April in delinquent taxes, it was revealed Monday.

Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said his office has written delinquent taxpayers and has also filed civil suits to regain the tax monies.

He said most of the $15,000 has come from persons owing personal property taxes.

Next month, the district attorney's office will begin filing suit against taxpayers who owe delinquent real property taxes.

The taxpayers will be written a letter warning them of legal action and if they have not paid after 30 days, the office will field civil suits.

THE BANKER

HE'S WHAT MAKES ONE BANK DIFFERENT FROM ANOTHER.

Most people think that banks are banks. After all, they'd argue, we look a lot alike. Our services are largely the same. We all conform. (We have to, we're regulated.)

But they're forgetting the banker. He's what makes one bank different from another.

He's something else. He gets where he is because he is who he is, a man with an innate sensitivity to what's going on. Rumors, tips, wild speculation — he leaves these to amateurs. And what he reads in the financial pages is just for starters.

Almost every area of experience comes into play in forming his decisions: world trends, political trends, scientific trends, industrial trends, social trends.

Where else can a man put together all these complex awarenesses and make them make sense? Some people might scoff at all this because they know it's not the banker's own money he's investing. Well, they ought to remember a banker has invested his life.

You'll find officers with an incredibly high degree of individual responsibility. We have so much respect for our people that we just don't saddle them with committee rules. This way, answers to your questions and decisions on loans come through faster.

When you stop in at West Texas State Bank, you'll find it's the banker who makes a bank different. We want you to know that you'll always find a welcome at West Texas State Bank. But to say you'll just find a welcome hardly says enough.

YOU'LL FIND A BANKER AT WEST TEXAS STATE BANK

CARD OF THANKS

When this terrible thing happened to Slim, you begin to question whether there is any more good in the world.

But as we began to remember the events of the past six months of ways our dear friends searched for ways to be helpful, finally, we knew in spite of this tragic thing people still loved us, and could see so much good yet in this world because there hasn't been anything that friends haven't offered to do, and we are so grateful to you all.

A special thanks and gratitude to all the hospital staff that showed so much love and concern.

Also a special thanks to the Sheriff's Posse for all their hard work they gave us. And we will never forget the loyalty and love the men at the Sheriff's Office showed to Slim and to all of us.

The many, many sympathy cards while Slim was sick, the beautiful flowers, foods, and all the cards since the passing of our love one.

But in these darkest moments of our lives, we felt God's love is in evidence.

Catastrophe Strikes Twice

By VICKIE HOOKER

"BEWARE OF THE Little Dipper!" That's the warning Valerie McClendon and her children Sherry, Danny, and John Clark would probably give to those in the Little Dipper line at Wonderland Park. No one warned them Wednesday night before last when they rode it, and they met with very unfortunate circumstances.

On the last turn of the last lap around the track, the car Valerie, Sherry, and John Clark were in jumped the track! As they headed for the ground Sherry reached out with her right arm, possibly hoping to break the fall. Not only did she break the fall, protecting her mother and two-year-old brother from serious injuries, but she also broke her forearm right into!

SHERRY GOT TO come home last Sunday from the hospital and she is doing rather well, except that she has to sleep sitting up. Valerie is undergoing therapy everyday for at least two weeks for her neck and back, and John Clark received only bruises. So all in all, they were pretty lucky, and we're certainly glad that no one was hurt seriously.

ANOTHER CATASTROPHE THAT same day occurred at the mailboxes! Our poor mailman tried to catch his mail truck which was making its way toward the barbed wire fence on the west side of the road. From all indications, the truck hit the fence before he could get in and stop it. The top strand of the wire snapped loose from the posts, wrapping itself around our mailman. He carefully removed the wire and completed his route, his clothes in shambles, not to mention the cuts and scratches on his body! He was treated and released from the hospital and is apparently all right now. (The only reason we found out about this is that he was in the emergency room when Sherry was brought in with her broken arm.)

EVEN THOUGH YOU probably won't be seeing him out riding cycles for some time, just thought we'd let you know that Tim Dustman is home from the hospital and is doing well. Glad to have you back in this part of the world, Tim!

BUSTER AND REBA Guess have had a busy summer entertaining relatives. The last ones were Buster's step-brother and his wife, Carol and Edna McBride, who were here last Sunday from Odessa. Actually, the main purpose of the McBride's visit was to see her nephew, who is still in serious condition after an accident he had on a trampoline a few weeks ago.

REBA SAID THEY haven't had much chance to work on their house, but they hope to get back to it and finish their bedroom soon. (If I had been Reba, I think I would have taken advantage of the situation and put some of those relatives to work!)

DO YOU KNOW what next Thursday is? Of course! It's the first Home Demonstration Club Meeting for the year! We'll meet at 12:00 noon at Valerie McClendon's for crafts. Beverly Norman will be demonstrating how to make miniature burlap flower arrangements. You will need to bring a four-inch square of burlap for each flower you make, balled fringe for the centers, wrapped wire or green tape for the stem, and Elmer's glue. Don't forget to mark September 7 on your calendar. Let's get the year started off right with every member present!

IT SEEMS LIKE it was an awfully short summer, but the men in our community, along with the men on the board, have done an excellent job making improvements in the Palisades. Our roads (thanks to the rain) are in fine shape, not to mention the bridge. And thanks to a lot of hard work on the part of our board members and Walter Adams, our gate remained in operation all summer, helping to protect our property. Everyone is extremely grateful for all your work, men. You've done a wonderful job!

BUT EVEN THOUGH the summer's over, our men have not stopped working and improving our community. The board is in the process of buying ten semi-truck loads of asphalt which was removed from a Furr Food store parking lot. The cost of the asphalt is $1.00 per yard, and will be used for filler in places that wash badly.

NEXT WEEK THERE'LL be some interviews with our new families in "Palisades Palaver".

THAT'S ALL THE news for now. Thank you.

Moore Infant's Rites Held

Graveside services for Brian Christopher Moore were conducted by LaGrone Funeral Chapel at Dreamland Cemetery on Saturday, Aug. 26, at 2 p.m. The Rev. Mel Hardin, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, officiated.

The baby was born at Neblett Memorial Hospital at 3:55 a.m. of the same day. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Moore of Dumas. Grandparents were Mr. and Mrs. James DeArman of Breckenridge, Tex., and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Moore of Comanche.

Conner To Speak At Final Services

"The biggest church in the world" will hold its last worship services of the summer season in Palo Duro Canyon Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, with Lon Conner as speaker.

Directed by J.C. Newton, lay "cowboy preacher," the non-denominational services have been held each Sunday this summer in the Sunflower picnic area for the benefit of campers in the canyon.

Sunday's speaker, a Canyon High School 1970 graduate and Eagle quarterback, is now a ministerial student. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Conner of Amarillo, and the grandson of Lonnie Byars of Canyon. Mr. and Mrs. Ken Baker and Mrs. Troy Martin will furnish the music for Sunday's worship.

With an average attendance of about 55, the services have ministered to campers from the states of New Mexico, Oklahoma, Georgia, Illinois, Louisiana, Tennessee, Michigan, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, and from many towns in Texas.

Special groups which have participated have been members of the National Campers and Hikers Association, a youth choir from Houston, and a youth group from Plainview. Robert Ray Henry, chaplain at the Huntsville state prison, directed the music for one service, accompanied by his wife. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Crews Henry, Canyon.

Numerous Canyon church members have assisted with the services as speakers, music directors, and instrumentalists on a pump organ and an accordion. They have also contributed their time in distributing circulars, posters, and other forms of publicity, and in reserving space and setting up chairs and other facilities.

"We'd like to extend a general invitation to folks in this area for these last services Sunday," Newton declared. He captioned the services, "the biggest church in the world" because they are held in the open with no man-made walls or limitations.

trial procedure in cases concerning the receipt and posession of stolen property.

"Under the present law, a fence cannot be convicted unless we can prove he knew the property was stolen and you have to have more than the testimony of an accomplice," Dowlen said." "As a practical matter, in 99 per cent of the cases, the thief and the fence are the only two who know what they said to each other."

The amendment says the state can prove guilt by presenting the uncollaborated testimony of an accomplice. It also provides that the fence would be presumed to know the property was stolen if it can be shown that twice before in a 12-month period, he had been in possession of stolen property.

Another amendment would change the legal relationship of a man and wife testifying in court.

"Now, the wife cannot be forced to testify against her husband unless the case involves violence done the wife or their children, period," Dowlen said. "This amendment restricts the law to prohibit testimony only about confidential communications between the husband and wife during the marriage."

It would, in essence, allow the wife to testify against her husband in cases such as bigamy.

Other items in the legislative package include amendments concerning driving while intoxicated, parole and appeals.

Also included is a bill calling for a pay raise for district attornies.

court concerning the resolution.

Judge Pond said he will ask a representative of the users association and the gas company to attend the next commission meeting.

The resolution, which was presented the court in a letter, petitions the federal commission to control gas rate increases sought by Pioneer.

It states that the gas company is currently unregulated in the irrigation gas business and due to this "the company is free to raise the price of gas at any time and the farmers have no recourse and simply must pay the increased price or be cut off from natural gas."

The commissioners approved the computerization of the paper work involved in absentee balloting, but only after a warning from John Fulgenzi that computerization can sometimes bring increased cost.

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton had asked that the information received when a person votes absentee be stored on computer and used to compile three lists he is required by law to produce.

Hutton said the lists are needed to post daily names of voters who have voted absentee, to give to precinct judges and to give to canvassing officials on election day.

Hutton expects 3,000 persons to vote absentee in the coming November general election.

He said the paper work involved in producing the three lists requires that he hire several additional clerks at considerable expense to the county.

Upon questioning, Hutton said the computerization of the paper work would cost less than $100.

"There's a point you can reach where computers cost more than they're worth," Fulgenzi warned.

Fulgenzi also questioned the security of a computerized system, and was assured by Hutton that the system would be more secure than a system requiring additional clerks.

Commissioners also okayed a trip to San Antonio on Sept. 6 for Hutton to attend an elections seminar.

Commissioners will not meet again until 1 p.m. Sept. 11 due to the Labor Day holiday next Monday.

In other business, Jacobs told board members that almost 100 more children are enrolled in the schools here than had been anticipated.

He said, though, he would not assess the situation until following the Labor Day holiday when he feels all local children who are going to enroll will have begun classes.

Most of the increase in numbers of children occurred in the 5th grade through senior high school.

Rex Reeves Elementary School has an enrollment of 900, Gene Howe an enrollment of 453, the Junior High has 826 students and the high school 694 students.

Jacobs presented figures noting that first grade enrollment is decreasing annually since 1965, when 230 first graders began school here.

That number has dropped to its low—157 this year.

main anonymous, was sharply critical of the termination of the draft and the move to a volunteer force.

He pointed out that today's Army reserve and national guard ranks are filled by and large with draft-motivated soldiers, and that without a draft there would be little motivation for today's young people to join either outfit.

He blamed many of the Army's problems on its image.

"People need to look at the Army as a kind of insurance policy," he said. "Right now, every mother in the U.S. is fighting the Army."

Dr. Darrell Munsell, publicity chairman for the Panhandle area McGovern for President committee, said the president's reaffirmation of the draft elimination was politically timed.

"I don't fault him on his timing," Munsell said. "Everything now is time for the election."

Munsell views the elimination of the draft with mixed emotions.

"In concept, I can agree with the voluntary basis," he said. "But, I can't agree in some areas, one of which is I'm not sure it's going to work."

Munsell said the draft has been an unfair system, but he said the British Army has experienced many problems in its all-volunteer force.

"Their Army is too small even for Great Britain," he said, "and they've had difficulty filling some of the specialty areas. Their big problem is filling the ranks.

"I'm not so sure our's would be any better."

ions to worry people," said Mayfield.

Three athletes are working at the quarterback berth and at least two of them have had success in the past as throwers. Ron Leach, a junior who started seven games last year during a 2-9 campaign, was the team's third leading rusher last fall, but completed only eight of 44 pass attempts.

Mike Wartes, who quarterbacked the Buffalo freshmen to a 3-1 record last fall, completed 16 of 39 passes for 450 yards and only one interception during that campaign. The other quarterback is Bob Sweat, a strong-armed ex-Marine. Once in high school in Suffolk, Va., and once in a Marine Corps game Sweat completed six touchdown passes.

"Our rate of progress has been pretty good," said Mayfield after the first two days in full pads. "We need a great deal of work on offense with our assignments. I'm not dissatisfied with that phase of progress at this time, but it does need much more work."

The Buffaloes will climax their first week in full pads with a 2 p.m. scrimmage Saturday at the West Texas State practice field. The final two-a-day session is slated for today and one practice will be held Friday.

Mayfield said some of his players will miss parts of the two-a-days Thursday because of registration for classes, but that most of the players will be on hand for those practices.

organization and Young Voters for the President group will be formed.

These two organizations would be to gather non-partisan support for the two candidates in the November general election.

"I'm confident we can put these together," Jaquess said.

Jaquess said he feels good support for President Nixon is already building on campus.

"Our students are more moderate," he said, "and we have a lot of support here."

Turner said the Young Democrats are already going and that they will reapply for a new charter to operate on campus this fall.

He said the group may launch a door-to-door dormitory campaign later this fall to register students to vote.

Turner said the Young Democrats are chartered to back McGovern for President and will do so.

"Our charter calls for us to back all Democratic candidates," he said, "But, I won't get out and work for him(McGovern)."

"I think our manpower and time will be better spent trying to get our local people elected."

The organizational meeting for the Young Democrats will be Sept. 13.

Tulia newspaper publisher H.M. Baggarly will be the first speaker for the group during the first week in October.

Big Melons Grown Here

Everyone knows things are big in Texas, but a 19-pound cantaloupe?

The "monster" cantaloupe was one of seven large melons grown by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oglesby, who live about seven miles northeast of Canyon.

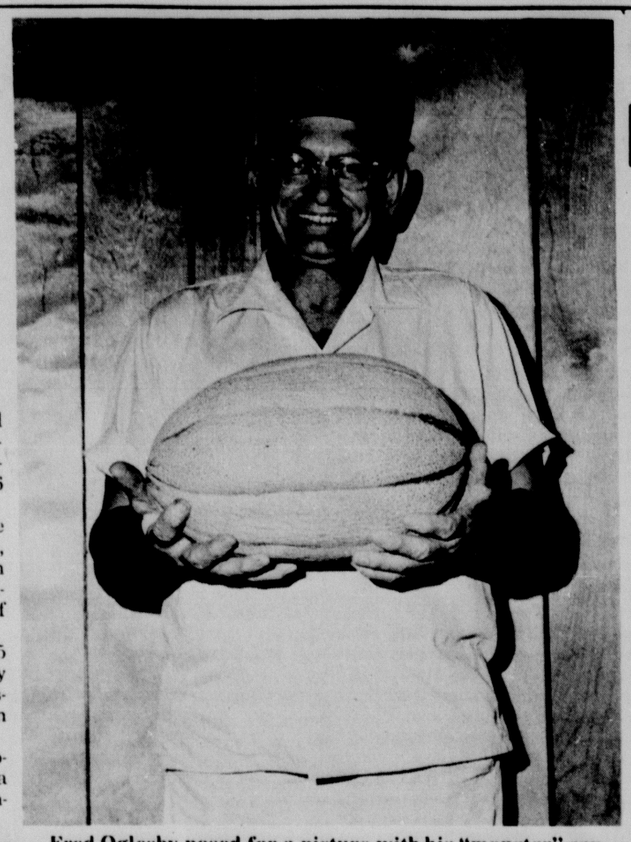

Oglesby said he got the cantaloupe seeds from a North Carolina company and used no fertilizer.

"We just planted our garden for the fun of it," said the man with the green thumb, who works for the American Smelting and Refining Company in Amarillo.

He said he was going to take one of the giant melons to show his fellow workers at the smelter.

"I hope they taste good—I haven't eaten any yet," Oglesby said.

One person, seeing the cantaloupe, said, "If it grew that big with the little rain that we've had this summer, think what it would look like with a lot of rain!"

Fred Oglesby posed for a picture with his "monster" cantaloupe, a 19-pound one, before he sold it to Canyon News circulation manager, Louis Camp. Oglesby, who lives seven miles northeast of Canyon, said he got the cantaloupe seeds from a North Carolina company and used no fertilizer.

PACK 130, CUB Scouts, will holding a Cub Scout Rally on September 7th, in the cafetorium at Gene Howe School, at 7:30 P.M. Boys who are interested in becoming Cubs and who are either presently eight years old or are in the third grade are invited to attend this rally. Mr. Bill Edwards is the new cub master of this pack and will explain the in's and out's of cubbing to those in attendance. Parents of prospective cubs will need to accompany the boys to this meeting.

THE WEBELOS, WHO are Scouts ten years of age, are looking for a leader. This is a fine group of young men, so one of you daddies volunteer to help them along. O.K. Incidentally, any young man interested in cubbing or scouting should feel free to attend the meeting on the 7th, though this meeting is to explain the cub scout program, there will be someone there to direct prospective scouts to a source of information.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY TO Phyllis and Doug Ford on September 3rd.

GUESS WHO IS sporting a simply fabulific engagement ring? Gene Howe's very own Loy Bell, who teaches a first grade class at the school. The lucky fella is one Dr. Tom Gerald, a veterinarian. The date hasn't been set as yet for this happy young couple to wed, but "It could be any time now." Best wishes to you both from all of us!

A HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Bill Dee Seth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Seth, who celebrated on August 27th.

SOME DADDIES NEVER get to know what it's really like to be a mother. Don Palmer was indoctrinated into this field last week, complete with emergency run to the doctor's office and a session of car trouble to boot. Daughter Shonda was trying out the new water fountain at the school park, and when she was jostled, her poor forehead was cut. Mother Raydell was out of pocket, so daddy Don was called and rushed Shonda to see the doc. After having six stitches taken in her forehead and receiving treatment for a black eye, Shonda was more than ready to go home. So was daddy, but this is where the car trouble started. His car having died on the parking lot, Don called for help. Help came. Help broke the headlight on his car while pushing it off the lot. Etc. Etc. Etc. Shonda finally made it home, and a relieved daddy gladly went back to work. Good luck with those stitches, little one.

BILL EDWARDS GALLANTLY delayed celebrating his birthday which was on August 24, so he and his wife, Sarah, could celebrate birthdays together. Sarah's birthday is on September 1. Many happies to you both.

IT'S INEVITABLE WHEN school starts, the male species (regardless of age) turn to thoughts of football. Gene Howe youngsters turned out in full force for football this year. So many signed up, in fact, that there is one sixth grade team coached by Dick Balke and Leonard Schmidt; one fifth grade team coached by Euris Phipps and Bob Paris; one team coached by Ricky Smith composed of fifth and sixth graders. Coach Smith also doubles as the Physical Education Assistant at Gene Howe, taking the boys in hand. The fourth grade football team is coached by Sam Minier, who gets double brotherly assistance from Ron and Don Minier. Good luck to all these teams and their coaches—we will all be rooting for you.

AN EXTRA SPECIAL happy birthday to an extra special young man, namely, Marty Mulherin. Thank you, son, for twelve lively and happy years.

BILL AND ERNESTINE Harp managed to make parting with their son, Duane, a bit more fun than partings usually are. They and guest, Anita White, daughter of Jimmy and Winona White, and Duane drove to Texas A&M, where Duane is a sophomore this year, and attended to the necessities of enrollment. On to Houston to tour the Astrodome and NASA. Then to Galveston for a ferryboat ride, seafood and wading in the gulf. (Actually, Ernestine and Bill waded—Duane and Anita took the opportunity to do some swimming). Back to Houston the next day. This time around they went to the Galleria, which is a new shopping center built on four levels. An ice skating rink is located on the lower level. The shops are situated on balconies and shoppers can watch the skaters. Back to College Station and goodbys to Duane, then to Dallas for a visit with Ernestine's sister. After visiting various aunties on the way, the Harps and Anita finally made it home.

SYMPATHIES ARE EXTENDED to the Carl Johnson family in the recent loss of Carl's father, Mr. Frank Johnson.

THE ANNUAL TRI State Tennis Tournament is scheduled this weekend. Play will start at nine o'clock each morning Saturday and Sunday at various courts around Amarillo. The play-offs will be held on Monday, at the Amarillo Tennis Center. All West Texas State University tennis teams and some of the Gene Howe tennis buffs will be playing in this tournament, so make plans to drop by with a few dozen words of encouragement. Top seeded players from the area will be taking part, so you will be guaranteed some excellent matches.

300 Participants In Jr. High Ball

Almost 300 junior high school boys are participating in football this fall, and Coach Bob Sloan hopes each boy gets as much out of the program as he puts into it.

Six junior high teams—two for each grade level—begin intramural play today. Their regular schedule against out-of-town opponents begins next week.

For Sloan, coordinator of the junior high program, the football system in Canyon is unique.

"It lets each boy have an opportunity to participate in organized athletics to determine whether he wants to continue in it or make some other choice," Sloan said. "We want everyone to participate no matter how small, large or good they are."

Indeed, that's the purpose of the junior high program.

"If they don't like it we have other programs they can enjoy," Sloan said.

"The program is set up with the attitude that everyone learn to work together as a team without any real regard to winning and losing," he said. "We could really care less if we win a ball game. We just want them to enjoy the game."

Sloan praised Canyon's program as giving many more boys a chance to play. He noted that the junior high program provides for two teams in each grade rather than just one team.

Participation is the key to holding a boy's interest in athletics, Sloan said.

"Take my own life—If I hadn't had a good coach who was understanding, if he hadn't let me play some, and for kids, I probably never would have continued in athletics," he said. "I only weighed 80 pounds and there was no way I could help the team win because I was just too small."

Sloan said very little is predictable about the growth of a junior high age boy.

"He may be a small kid who can't compete in junior high, but we don't know what kind of athlete he's going to be when he gets into high school," he said.

In addition, Sloan feels the boys can learn a great deal from their stint in junior high athletics.

"I think the greatest thing a kid can learn is self-discipline," he said. "It helps him now and will help him forever."

Sloan, who has 12 years in the coaching field, is a graduate of Oklahoma State University. He received his masters degree from Central State University in Oklahoma.

XKZ Brunch Opens Year

A "Beginning Day Brunch" in the home of Mrs. Charles Peckenpaugh, east of Canyon last Friday, started off the year's parade of events for Xi Kappa Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. Herbert Kuhlman, president, presided at the planning meeting. Yearbooks were distributed and upcoming events scheduled, including the "Little Miss Canyon Pageant" to be held Oct. 21 at Canyon High School.

A brunch of fresh fruits, chicken salad, homemade bread and cherry-meringue dessert was served to Mmes. Bob Brotherton, Tommy Hunter, Herbert Kuhlman, Johnny Robinson, Bill Thomas, and Miss Virginia Rossiter, by the hostess.

The sorority's next meeting will be at 8 p.m., Sept. 5, in the home of Mrs. Kuhlman, east of Canyon.

Coach Bob Sloan, coordinator of junior high football program, talks with a young gym student during classes Tuesday. Sloan said more than 250 boys are playing football this fall in the junior high program.

Sisters Have Narrow Escape

By TOOTIE BYBEE

HOWDY AGAIN. GUESS school days really cut into a lot of folks' summer; haven't had much word from too many doing too much travelling this past week. If, that is a big IF, you missed this column last week it is because it wasn't there. With school starting and all that goes with it, I clean forgot the column and woke up Thursday morning and remembered it. I sure felt silly, but any way will try to make up for it.

BLANCHE AND MIKE Hudson may need to have an open house with all the work they have been doing lately on their house. Getting ready for the new addition expected at a later date. Sure all looks so nice and proud it's almost all finished.

WENT WALKIN INTO the movie the other evening with the bunch and who should be sitting on the back row but the Whitehead family. Roger had the little 'un, Rebecca Ann, and Mike had the middle 'un, Rosemary, and Spooky and Shelley were just enjoying themselves watching the movie. We all enjoyed it together. Kinda funny though. we had to sort of rig up a silent agreement with the couple on the far end of the row to not let Rosemary by pass them on that end or we would all still be hunting her.

HAD A COUPLE of reunions this past weekend. The Cooper's motored down to Tulia to the Clayton reunion, which is on DeAnn's side of the family. Said her grandfather's brother was there and the last one of that older generation. But families just go on and on. Had about 70 present.

THE TOWS MANAGED to gather all up and get to one place at the same time. They had such a nice time in Thompson Park Saturday. Rain seemed to try and stop it all, but they just rented the Boat and Ski Club and went on with the fun. Had around 70 there and played ball and did what all good all American families do on Saturday afternoon.

SHERRY AND GLENNA Evans had a most exciting trip this past weekend. They went with their church's young people's choir to Questa, N.M. to sing at Sunday services. Went horseback riding, rode the ski lift, had a evening service around the camp fire and just had a wonderful time together. Then on the way back the bus had engine trouble and they were towing the bus and something went wrong with the towing hook up, and down a steep mountain the bus came at break neck speed. It was all very scarey had not the Lord truly watched over them all, about 30 teenagers wouldn't be here today. The driver told me he still didn't know what stopped the bus, but I do!! Anyway, it was a wonderful trip and a lot of good was accomplished by these kiddoes. Only minor injuries occurred and for that we are all thankful.

HELLO TO JIMMY and Jane Cowen who spent a fun-filled weekend with the Tow's last weekend. Jill you forgot your suitcase!!

HAVE YOU NOTICED the new foundation going down next the South end of our pasture? More new neighbors!! Will give you more information next week. Haven't been able to catch the misses there yet to talk with her.

THE NEW NEIGHBORS down the block from the Evans are the Cox's, now there are two. Mr. Cox works in Hereford and commutes everyday. He builds stock pens. Sam had a nice long chat with Mrs. Cox the other evening in the yard and then forgot all the important information before he could tell me. Yea for husbands!!

SAW A FEW of you all here and there. The Buckles boys were out with a batch of fellows playing in their cute little 6-wheel mobile. Gee, it sure looks like fun, wish I could have a ride. Mr. Hinson stay off your house top! If you fall it will truly hurt. Hello to Joyce Minor and Marcy who I see through the kitchen window each time I drive by. Sure do like the new pickup and camper the Rosses are sporting around. Enjoyed the recent article on our friend and neighbors The Fowlkes, in the Canyon News. Saw Mrs. Robinson and Nancy enjoying the evening with a bike ride around the park. Happy birthday to my own little darling, Leslie. Saw Mr. Garrison out working hard in his yard, also, saw Mr. Woods doing the same. Get well to my good pal and friend Mr. Bedwell. Hello Mrs. Patterson, who ALWAYS waves as she goes by. Always makes me feel good and seems all's right with the world when neighbor enjoys and loves neighbor. Not always time for a chat but a wave will do.

WITH ALL THOSE cucumbers everyone seems to have plenty of, here's a good idea:

Make Dill Pickles, the easy way

Wash cucumbers thoroughly. Fill jars and add to each quart:

1 pod hot peppers (if desired)
1 clove garlic
1 dill head
¼ tsp. alum to quart

Heat:

1 qt. white vinegar
2 qt. water
½ cup salt (full measure)

When brine is boiling pour over cukes in jars, wipe tops of jars. Seal. Let sit for a few weeks before eating to let cukes absorb the brine. Reminder: Wash, rewash and wash again every utensil used. Be sure nothing has grease on it or the pickles will be soft.

SO ONCE AGAIN see you next week. For those of you who have forgotten, or at least seemed to have forgotten my number for news. The NEWS NUMBER is 622-1471, call me, I'm waiting.

ONE LAST WORD: To all those chubbies: including me. Remember 10 minutes of trampolining equals 30 minutes jogging, so get to jumping.

Riders Entertain Guests

By MARY JO GRIFFIN

HAPPY SECOND WEEK of school. Hopefully this week has been as pleasant as the first one. Watching the bus load and unload is again a daily thing here. Found an article in the September issue of The Farmer Stockman entitled "School Days Affect Mothers in Several Different Ways" in which I fit perfectly with the writer. But knowing that the children are getting a good education makes it all worth while.

RICKY TANKERSLEY IS celebrating a birthday today. Happy Birthday, Ricky.

MARSHA AND TOMMY Goodwin of Abilene were guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Jones and Lee Don. They all attended the wedding Penny Morton and Bobby Johnson. Marsha was in our home for a short while Saturday and we enjoyed the visit.

TWO WEDDING ANNIVERSARIES are on our calendar this week. Happy Anniversary Sunday the 3rd to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nance and Tuesday the 5th to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grace.

MRS. JOHN RIDER and daughter Michelle recently went to Brush, Colorado, and brought Audrey's aunt, Mrs. Irma Skiles home with them for a visit. Later, Mrs. J.J. Carter and son Jake of Tucumcari, New Mexico, were here for dinner with the Riders and Mrs. Skiles went to visit in their home. Other guests of the Rider family last week were John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Rider from Gage, Oklahoma. They saw the performance "Texas" in Palo Duro Park and celebrated the 78th birthday of Mr. Rider.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY SATURDAY, Sept. 2 to Tammie Allen and Sunday, Sept. 3 to Janice Gallup. Have a great year ahead.

IN TALKING WITH Jewell Huneycutt this week, we found so much in common with our short summer. They have been busy, busy with their garden and other activities. The boys have the cutest tree house and really enjoy "living" in it.

LAST WEEK WANDA Leith was in Dallas for a business meeting with Sarah Coventry Inc. She returned home in time for the weekend with her family.

WE ARE ALL looking forward to the Labor Day weekend. Having our first school holiday with time for that last summer trip or outing, do plan to call so we can get it in our neighborhood section. Have a good week and do be extra careful in the weekend traffic.

Area Square Dancers Meet For Fun, Exercises

By LINDA LOCKETT

The record starts quietly, "Get your partners"; the music begins; and all of a sudden, there's a flurry of full skirts and petticoats, clapping and lots of laughter.

It's the Canyon Capers square dance club, which meets every Monday at 8-10:30 p.m. in the West Texas State University Activities Center.

Frank Ham, president of Canyon Capers, said square dancing is "a lot of fun, good exercise and a way to stay young." "You never see any old square dancers," Ham said laughingly.

Susan Lindemann of the Umbarger Pistols and Petticoats club said square dancers are "real friendly." "People don't feel bashful or awkward about dancing with partners other than their husband, wife or boyfriend," she explained.

Miss Lindemann, who is the sweetheart of her club, attended a state square dance convention in Fort Worth this summer with about 8000 other square dance enthusiasts.

She explained that a person belonging to a square dance club can go to another club anywhere in the nation and feel at home.

Other good points about square dancing, said Miss Lindemann, are that it is inexpensive entertainment and lively exercise.

"It's fun when you mess up and fun when you do good," the WTSU senior said and added that usually the steps come "automatically" after one learns.

"We've had two weddings in our club," Miss Lindemann said proudly.

Pistols and Petticoats celebrated its first anniversary in February with 28 squares of dancers. Usually they have about eight squares, said Miss Lindemann.

Unlike Canyon Capers, which is for married couples, the Umbarger club has fourth graders to grandparents.

Pistols and Petticoats meets at 7:30 p.m. on the first, third and fifth Sunday at the Umbarger Parish Hall. President is Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Skarke.

Miss Lindemann described a typical square dance night: a tip, made up of a hash and singing call, rest period and then a round dance.

She said a hash is made up of different patterns and a girl dances mainly with the same partner. During a singing call, dancers dance to a popular song and do what the caller tells them to do. Girls make their way around a circle, dancing with different partners and end with the original partner.

Miss Lindemann said the round dance is "kinda like folk dancing."

The Canyon Capers Club usually has about 14 couples. President is Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ham.

Other officers include Mr. and Mrs. Bob Podzemny, vice president and reporter; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hall, secretary-treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. Noble Brown, social chairman; and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Dugan, Panhandle Square Dance Association representatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Pitt, past president, are now on the club board. Knox Day is the club caller, and Mrs. Lurlene Johnson is sweetheart.

Canyon Capers was host club recently for a PSDA sweetheart jamboree dance at the WTSU Activities Center. Ham said there were about 41 squares of eight people each.

Dr. James Davis, head of the WTSU accounting department, organized a WTSU square dance club last November, and it now meets with Canyon Capers.

Davis enphasized that WTSU faculty and students are invited to the Monday night Canyon Capers dances.

Visitors to the Canyon Capers and Pistols and Petticoats square dance clubs may see a part of the heritage of the West, as the brightly-dressed women do-si-do in billowy skirts and their partners clap and laugh loudly. And unlike many modern dances, partners actually touch each other!

Mrs. Dee Renken and Frank Ham enjoy a whirl around the square dance circle at the Canyon Capers square dance Monday night in the West Texas State University Activities Center.

Drivers Warned Of Buses

A Canyon school official this week warned local drivers to watch for school buses and to obey state law which requires cars to stop when approaching a stopped school bus.

"We've had two or three violations of this in the last few days," said Ray Schultz, school business manager.

Schultz said the law requires drivers to stop their cars when they approach a stopped school bus with its blinker lights flashing.

Schultz also noted the regulations which govern students riding school buses to Canyon schools.

They include the following:

1. The driver is in full charge of the bus and pupils. Pupils must obey the driver promptly and cheerfully.
2. Pupils must obey and respect the orders of monitors or patrols on duty.
3. Pupils must be on time as the bus cannot wait for those who are tardy.
4. Pupils must never stand in the roadway while waiting for the bus. They shall wait a sufficient distance from the pavement to allow room for the bus to pull off the pavement onto the shoulder.
5. Outside of ordinary conversation, classroom conduct is to be observed.
6. Save snacks and soft drinks for later—do not bring food or liquids on the bus.
7. The use of tobacco in the bus is not permitted.
8. Pupils must not, at any time, extend their arms or heads out of the bus window.
9. Pupils must not throw waste paper or other rubbish on the floor of the bus.
10. Pupils must not try to get on or off the bus or move about within the bus while it is in motion.
11. Any damage to the bus must be reported at once to the driver and /or principal.
12. PENALTY: For violation of any of these rules a pupil will be reported to the school principal who can bar him temporarily or permanently from riding the bus.

Lions Club Carnival Is For Kids Of All Ages

By LINDA LOCKETT

Although the drizzling rain was threatening to ruin the fun, carnival goers early this week continued to ride the Scat Cat, the Rollaplane and the other rides of the Jest Amusement Company at the opening night of the Lions Club Carnival.

Continuing through Saturday, the annual fair was attended Monday night by kids of all ages from the wee ones to the older chaperones, many of whom eyed the Moonwalk, perhaps with a secret longing to jump uninhibitedly on the bouncy surface.

In the middle of the fair, which is across from Rex Reeves Elementary School, is the Lions Club bingo table, where people may win sugar, coffee and other staples.

The Canyon Rainbow Assembly has a popcorn booth. "They're the biggest 10-cent bags of popcorn in the country," the man assured.

A member of the Amarillo Khiva Shriners was deftly creating balloon dogs for fairgoers, while children were becoming sticky from the gooey caramel apples.

Junior and senior high students seemed to want something to remember the rainy carnival night with, as they shouted, "Take my picture—take our picture—please put that in the paper."

What about the fair workers? Do they have as much fun as the fair-goers? Don't they ever get tired of moving from one town to another all the time?

"We don't want to stay in one place—we can't make any money that way," said one happy carnival worker.

The carnival was just in Floydada, and the next stop is Wellington. The carnival family (most of the ten are related with "a couple of offbreeds") move on Saturday and Sunday.

They live in small trailers. "We have television sets and everything we need. We live pretty confortably," said one of the workers.

As two girls approach the Moonwalk attendant and ask how much the tickets are and how long one gets to "moonwalk" inside the tent. "I guess I get asked that 100 times a day," said the worker smilingly..

About that time, it is decided the wind is getting up to high to have the Moonwalk, so it is deflated. Maybe the attendant won't reach 100 times after all.

"Send all the girls by the Hammer," a young carnival worker exhorted.

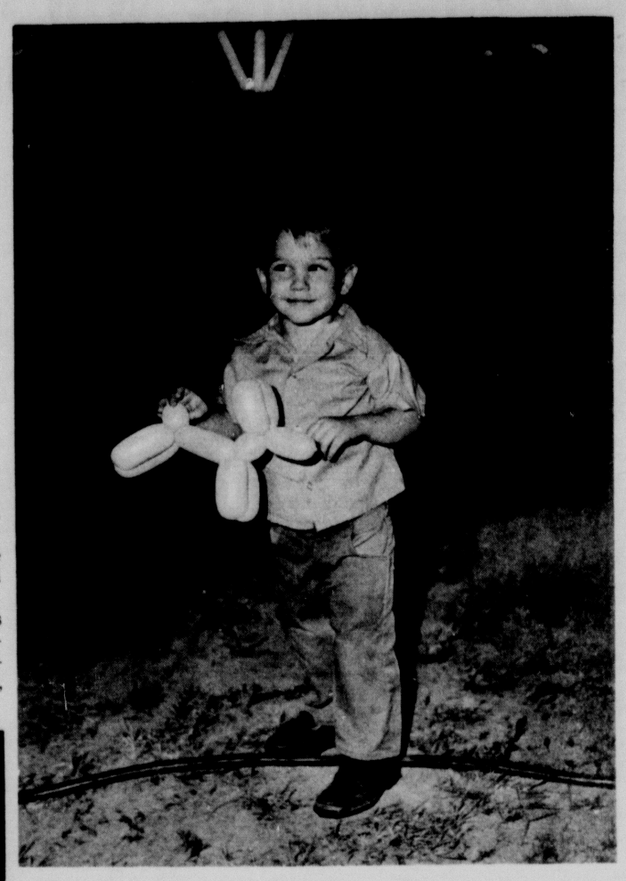

He seemed to be having fun, as did all the carnival workers—perhaps because their business is enabling other people, from 3 to 83, to have fun.

Two little girls chug along on the train ride at the Lions Club Carnival which will continue in Canyon through Saturday.

News Brief

Michael J. Moore, son of Dr. and Mrs. Dudley Moore, 11 Southridge Dr., received his BS degree in physical education at the Baylor University summer commencement exercises on Saturday, Aug. 19.

Three-year-old Ivan McClain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClain, 1412 7th Ave., holds a balloon dog and thinks of all the rides left to go on at the Lions Club carnival across from Rex Reeves Elementary School. The carnival continues through Saturday.

Homecoming Will Honor 1952 Girls' Team

By MARY NEAL HENRY

SCHOOL IS WELL under way. According to Mark Nichol's tablegram the enrollment reached 477; 101 in the top four grades, 21 in kindergarten, and 32 in the first grade. This is a reversal of the past few years statistics—upward instead of declining.

ANGELIQUE CAME HOME the second day of school, her arms loaded with books and book covers and announced, "We've got to wrap these." So we "wrapped them.

MANDI SHIPMAN CAME in from kindergarten the first day totally disappointed that that teacher didn't teach her how to read. These children's expectations are surprising.

SHERI IS ENROLLED and attending classes at West Texas. So is Debra McDonald, Anita Schoenenberger, Sharen Dietz, Debra Jackson, Steve Cole, Jim Whitlow, Kathy Bates Levitt, Walter Stubblefield.

Tidbits here and there

By CAROL CRAIN

SOME INTERESTING TRAVEL NOTES on Europe were given by Canyon teacher Mrs. Donna Wilson in a recent conversation. Donna traveled extensively abroad during June with a tour.

THE AGENDA includes tours in Amsterdam; Innsbruck, Cologne, Germany; Venice; Italy; a cruise down the Rhine River, a visit to Heidelburg and Lucerne, Switzerland.

Donna rode the Cog railroad up Mt. Pilatus in the Alps, visited St. Marks Cathedral and Square in Florence, toured Medici, seeing a number of Michaelangelo's works including the sculpture of David.

During the group's three days in Rome, Donna was able to see St. Peter's Cathedral, and the Roman Forum. They then went to Naples and the Isle of Capri.

The Isle of Capri was her favorite place. The tour visited the Blue Grotto where the water was extremely blue and beautiful.

Donna, who is among the "TEXAS" company each season, had lined the bottom of a suitcase with brochures from the musical drama and left them at hotels, giving them to other tourists who might be interested. There, on the Isle of Capri, the Canyonite met a woman from Wichita Falls—she had heard about "TEXAS"—even more from Donna's own experiences. One evening this season as Donna was selling programs the woman came up to her and said "Remember me? You told me about the show when we were on the Isle of Capri!" "TEXAS" people search for every possible way to share this great show with others—I am here to tell you!)

Donna's other stops included Fontainbleau, Genoa, Nice, Monocco, a swim in the Mediterrean on the French Riveria, a visit to Grenoble, the Louvre and Eiffel Tower in Paris and from there London.

After a trip across the English Channel in a Hovercraft, the group toured London. One stop was to see the musical version of "Gone With the Wind" at Drury Lane Theatre. Actress Betty White was among the members of the audience.

It was back home from their and then back to "TEXAS".

GRACE KNIGHTON was also on a recent European tour, I understand.

Newly-selected coordinators of Meals on Wheels in Canyon look over a charter, drafted by attorney Elton Cox, for the new organization. They are Mrs. Charles Smallwood, Mrs. J.L. Markham and Mrs. D.C. Gamble. The charter for a non-profit organization must be sent to Austin to be approved by state officials.

State Prexy Spells Out AAUW's Vital Concerns

Almost 60 members and prospective members turned out to greet Mrs. Jeannette Poole, Texas Division president of American Association of University Women, at a reception held Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Frank Blackburn, 413 Taylor Lane.

Mrs. John Green, president of the Canyon Branch of AAUW, received with Mrs. Poole and Mrs. Blackburn. Assisting the hostess at the punchbowl were Dr. Ruth Lowes, Mrs. Lynn Guy, and Mrs. Audrey Sanders. Mrs. Fred Stoker, membership chairman, presented members with name tags and year books.

"We wish we could get as much 'clout' in Austin as we have in Washington," said Mrs. Jeannette Poole, Texas Division president of the American Association of University Women, speaking to the gathering seated in the living room of the Blackburn home.

'Clout' is the catchword for political impact now popular in Washington, she explained, telling of the red-carpet treatment afforded AAUW by the State Department recently. "We met and talked with Secretary Rogers and were taken on a tour of the State Department building," she recalled.

Mrs. Poole, a youthful-looking grandmother and mathematics teacher from San Marcos had come to Canyon with a head full of ideas to help women bring about constructive growth on many fronts—ecology, public education, government, women's rights.

"Only he who attempts the absurd can achieve the impossible," she advised the group, injecting her serious message with a note of humor. Then she began on the national level and showed how the program could be implemented right down to the local level.

For example, the AAUW is interested in "securing equal opportunities for women in education, industry, government, and the professions." The State head then showed how the interest is translated into action.

"Take the case of Lola Beth Green on the faculty of Texas Tech who had been overlooked for promotion for years, apparently in favor of men. Her case was brought to the attention of Denise May of our legal services in Austin. We talked with the dean who had refused her promotion and helped her prepare her case. Her case comes up in Federal District Court in New Orleans in a few months. I talked with her recently in Levelland about her problem."

But AAUW, Mrs. Poole emphasized, is not a "women's liberation" group. Their interests are much broader.

The "crisis in public education" she gave as one of the most vital concerns of her organization. Mrs. Poole herself has attended high-level seminars on education and was editor for "Texas Project Re-Entry," an intensive AAUW effort to collect factual information on programs for continuing education of mature women in Texas.

"I think what the crisis means to most people is the problem of financing school systems," she had stated earlier in informal remarks to local officers of AAUW. "With the recent Rodriguez case, property taxes as the main source of financing school systems have been ruled out. When the Texas legislature meets next year we will be watching them to see how they handle this problem. We will probably find a heavier corporation income tax being levied—at present it is very low."

"When schools are financed from state funds, the question also arises as to how the funds will be allocated," she said. "Are we going to lower the quality of education in some schools, to raise the quality in others?—I don't think so.

"Another question is whether we should allocate any funds at all to private or parochial schools. In Laredo, there are three Catholic schools facing very severe financial problems. If they are closed down, it will mean an added burden to taxpayers."

Stressing the interest of her group in all aspects of education, Mrs. Poole praised the Canyon branch for its volunteer efforts in tutoring in past years. She went on to describe the AAUW's "Reading Is Fundamental" in action. "I was surprised to find the Pecos Branch with barely 15 members had bought all the books and materials to enable one fourth-grade class to start on the program."

Mrs. Poole moved on to the subject of AAUW's program of graduate fellowships which now support 80 American grants and 50 international grants. She pinpointed the Charlotte Wyatt Fund, a memorial fund to a deceased Amarillo woman long active in AAUW and instrumental in setting up the Canyon Branch. "We are all anxious to see that fund reach $65,000 so that grants may be made from it."

In the area of government, Mrs. Poole commented on AAUW's position on revision of the Texas Constitution. "We endorse Amendment No. 7 and Proposal No. 4 . . . We had a hard time deciding whether to endorse the proposal because we didn't want to see the legislature sit as a commission to revise the Constitution. But we're realists. We have joined with the "Citizens of Texas" group and will keep a close eye on the process of changing the Constitution."

Canyon and Amarillo were final stops for Mrs. Poole on her tour of 19 branches in west Texas and the Panhandle, and she was looking forward to returning home.

"You know, I have to begin teaching Wednesday," she said with undaunted energy.

Mrs. Frank Blackburn was hostess to 57 AAUW women Monday night at a reception in her home at 413 Taylor Lane for Texas Division president, Mrs. Jeannette Poole. Among those she welcomed was Mrs. Nancy Purcell, wife of Rep. Graham Purcell.

Meals On Wheels Prepares To Roll

Meals on Wheels in Canyon began rolling at a meeting Sunday, when directors, coordinators and committee chairmen were chosen for the planned nonprofit organization.

Attorney Elton Cox prepared an incoporation charter this week to be approved by state authorities. He thought the charter would be returned within two weeks.

One of the future directors, Mrs. Betty Holcomb, said the Canyon Meals on Wheels, to be one of many throughout the United States, will be a total ministry, not just a meal, for citizens older than 60.

Persons selected to receive meals would be checked on, probably five days a week; and this line of communication might enable people to live in their own homes, instead of rest homes.

One hot, nutritional meal a day will be prepared and delivered by volunteers, when the program begins, at first on a small scale, explained Mrs. Holcomb.

Mrs. Holcomb said about 40 persons attended the Sunday meeting. "We had a great cross-section of people," she said.

Along with Mrs. Holcomb, Dr. Ples Harper and the Rev. J. Frank Peery were selected directors. Coordinators are Mrs. D.C. Gamble, Mrs. Charles Smallwood and Mrs. J.L. Markham.

Also at the meeting, committee members and chairmen were selected for seven work areas—food service, finance, recipient interviews, driver volunteers, volunteers service, emergency service and publicity.

Temporary office space for Meals on Wheels will be provided by the First United Methodist Church.

Immediate needs of the organization are volunteers and financial aid, in the form of donations or pledges of support from individuals, church groups, civic clubs and other organizations.

Referral forms, with which persons can suggest people they think might qualify for the program, are being placed this week in churches, doctors' offices, drugstores and grocery stores.

Recipients will be chosen after they get physicals, and a doctor checks to see if they need a special type meal.

Mrs. Holcomb summarized her hope for the Canyon Meals on Wheels: "It's a community endeavor with a Christian thrust to administer to the needs of older Canyon citizens."

In the box by this story is a referral form for the newly-organized Meals on Wheels of Canyon.

Persons may use this form to suggest Canyon residents older than 60 who may qualify for the program.

Those selected will probably receive one hot, nutritional meal five days a week.

Forms are also being placed in churches, drugstores, grocery stores and doctors' offices this week.

Referral Form

We are making every effort to become acquainted with all persons over 60 years of age in our community who are unable to fix a hot well balanced meal once a day. Would you please fill out this form for anyone in your neighborhood who might qualify and return to: Meal on Wheels, P.O. Box 104, Canyon, Texas 79015.

A native of Pecos, Miss Farnum was a member of the student House of Delegates at WTSU and was selected for Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. She served as president of Alpha Delta Pi social sorority.

Miss Farnum taught at the Allamore School near Van Horn and also worked as a youth director at the United Methodist Church at Pecos.

She fills a vacancy created by the promotion of Miss Saundra Meek to dean of women.

Laurie Davidchik proudly displays a bass she caught on a recent fishing trip on the Arkansas River with her father, David Davidcheck, 1413 Creekmere, and friends. They spent a week cruising and fishing in their 19-foot Sterncraft.

Family Finds Fishing Good

The David Davidchiks of 1413 Creekmere have returned from a vacation on the Arkansas River and in New Orleans. David and daughter Laurie, accompanied by Delmar Watkins and son Mike of Pampa, launched their 19-foot Sterncraft at Tulsa and spent a week cruising and fishing the Arkansas River to Little Rock. In Lake Darnell, Ark., along the way, they caught five bass, the smallest of which weighed 6 lbs. David caught one weighing 7 lbs., and Laurie caught three fish. They also fished the Kerr Reservoir in Oklahoma.

At the end of their fishing trip in Little Rock, they were met by Mrs. Davidchik and daughters Carrie Beth and Davolyn, and her mother Mrs. E.B. Brown, and Mrs. Watkins and son Jo. All drove to New Orleans for two days of sightseeing and visiting before returning home.

Weavers Host WAGS Meeting

Writers of the Golden Spread met Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Ann Weaver, 416 Lair Ln., with Glenna Wilson assisting as co-hostess.

After a brief tour of Mrs. Weaver's home, the group settled to the business of reading and critiquing articles, poems and stories by members of the group. Included in the readings were songs by Hope McKenzie, who also plays and sings her creations as well.

Refreshments of punch, cookies, chips and dips were served.

After the workshop, Mrs. Weaver entertained the group by reading a short resume of a trip she and her son had made to Holland during the tulip blossom time. This was prelude to the viewing of slides which showed the group how the people of Holland practice the ecology preached in this country.

Mrs. Weaver's son, who showed the slides, explained the difficulties of photographing the tulips amid thousands of people. In a fairy garden of color, each rain-wet and brilliant tulip seemed to stand proudly alone in its own pattern of design.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frank, Charles McIntosh, Peggy Stock, Ann Brown, Marcia Caldwell, Lee Mash, Edna Turner, Hope McKenzie, Margerie Brewer, Esther Brotherton, Rosemary Kollmar, Geneva Berry and Mrs. Weaver and her son Willie.

The next meeting of W.A.G.S. will meet Thursday, Aug. 31, with Dora Davis, at 3517 Lenwood in Amarillo.
